Hike Urged In Funds For Spy In Sky 84 Million Boost Gets Nod From Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A powerful Senate committee Friday recommended an $4 - million - dollar boost in funds to rush into operation a spy-in-the-sky satellite designed to lay bare for U.S. military officials the most secret Soviet missile pads.

Members of the Senate Appropriations Committee stressed that halting of U2 spy plane flights made urgent the fastest possible development of the camera-equipped Samos reconnaissance satellite. Under present plans, the Samos system is due for readiness in about three years.

This was perhaps the most important action the committee took behind closed doors when it wrapped up for Senate action a $40,344,397 money bill to build up U.S. defenses in the fiscal year starting July 1.

ENDORSED

Generally, the committee endorsed the decisions of a subcommittee which made wide changes from the House bill and from Eisenhower administration requests.

However, it added $218,800,000 to the subcommittee's total—chiefly $63,800,000 to speed the Samos project and another 125 million for equipping the Army with the most modern weapons.

Overall the Senate bill is more than a billion dollars bigger than administration requests and the House's total.

The full Appropriations Committee accepted a $3,800,000 increase the House voted for the Samos. And for good measure, the Senate group tacked on an extra 50 million dollars. The basic amount—to which the nearly 84 million was added—was kept secret on security grounds.

After the meeting broke up, Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) disclosed the group had voted formally to ask "the executive branch to take immediate action to approve development of an operational Samos reconnaissance system."

Stennis said Samos has high priority now, but only as a research program—"no decision has been made to push it as an operational military system."

Stennis said Eisenhower's order last month canceling the U2 flights—spying which contributed to collapse of the summit meet—

U.S. Hopes Ike Will Gain Good Tokyo Welcome

TOKYO (AP) — American officials are banking on Japanese public opinion and the nation's traditional courtesy to save President Eisenhower from the kind of rock-throwing greeting his press secretary got Friday from radical leftists.

When the press secretary, James C. Hagerty, flew in on a scouting mission for his chief, a shouting, rock-throwing mob of about 10,000 surrounded his limousine for 80 tense minutes. He had planned to ride into Tokyo along the route Eisenhower is to take June 19. Accompanying him were Douglas MacArthur II, the U.S. Ambassador, and Thomas E. Stephens, White House appointment secretary. They finally were flown to safety in a helicopter.

STATEMENT

Hagerty told newsmen afterward there are no plans to cancel Eisenhower's visit.

"I don't think the Japanese people will permit the President of the United States to be caught in the same bind we were," he said.

Despite the risk, officials apparently feel Eisenhower must go through with the trip because of the critical stakes involved—the future of Japan's alliance with the West and its hopes for government by law instead of mob pressure.

Miner Trapped 10 Hours Freed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A 20-year-old miner, trapped 10 hours 100 feet below the surface, his right arm caught under a boulder, was rescued Friday.

A physician said Calvin Trevor, 20, of Escondido, Calif., appeared to be in good condition considering his ordeal. The arm, at first feared crushed, did not appear to be broken.

Melish had been trapped by a rock slide about 1 a.m. in the Tourmaline mine two miles north of Pala, a back-country mission community 30 miles northeast of San Diego. The slide pinned Melish in a bent-over, standing position on a narrow ledge.

Dawkins Will Seek Hearing In Vote Case

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — U. S. Judge Ben C. Dawkins said Friday he will seek a three-judge court hearing in a government suit to invoke the court referee law to insure Negro voting rights.

The three judge court may hear the case in late July or early August.

Dawkins also approved a federal government motion for dismissal of a state suit filed several weeks ago on behalf of registrars of voter in East Carroll, East Feliciana and Ouachita parishes. Louisiana had asked that federal agents be prohibited from probing records in the parishes.

Judge Dawkins made both moves at a hearing in U.S. District Court here.

FILED

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion filed in the same court an answer and counter claim in the Bienville Parish suit where the Justice Department is seeking to apply the new court referee law for the first time.

Gremlion's countersuit said that the government is attempting an unrestricted and unlimited "fishing expedition into every document in the registrar's office."

In the countersuit, Gremlion asked for the three-judge court because questions of constitutionality of the recently-enacted civil rights act.

It was a class action on behalf of all registrars in Louisiana and named U.S. Atty. Gen. Rogers, asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph M. F. Ryan Jr., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Ryan was served in court at Shreveport.

MORTON'S PREDICTION

Rockefeller May Go Back In Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prediction that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller may soon declare himself back in the race for the Republican presidential nomination came Friday from the party's national chairman, Thurston B. Morton.

Morton held a news conference after the Republican National Committee had given President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon a ringing endorsement. He said he would not be surprised if Rockefeller jumps back into the contest in the next two or three days.

QUIT

The New York governor quit as a contender last December, saying those who would control the Republican convention did not want any contest made against Nixon.

Last week he said he would be available for a draft, although he conceded Nixon is likely to get the nomination. Wednesday he blasted at the Eisenhower-Nixon record in a lengthy statement outlining his divergent views.

Morton said he doesn't think an announcement that Rockefeller is an active candidate for the nomination "would make much difference." He said most national committee members "feel very definitely the vice president will be our nominee."

Asked if Rockefeller would make a good president, Morton replied: "He would be a better president than those the Democrats are proposing."

Morton didn't give any specific basis for his prediction. But other Republicans voiced the view that Rockefeller would be taking on an almost impossible task in attempting to upset Nixon, who already

Castro Accuses U.S. Of Spying

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Friday night a U.S. military plane flew over a Soviet ship off Cuba's coast in what he called an act of espionage.

He showed a TV audience pictures of a twin-engine plane that appeared to be a U.S. Navy patrol craft flying near a ship he identified as Soviet.

In the auto, dressed in the red and white striped clothing the little girls had been wearing, were the two dolls.

Not until March 4, 1959, were the bodies of Jackson and Janet found in a brush pile near Fredricksburg, Va. Eighteen days later the body of the mother and little Susan Ann were found in a shallow grave near Annapolis, Md. Jackson had been shot and bludgeoned and the others apparently had been struck on the head.

There never were any direct clues. Several days ago Dutch telepathist Peter Herkos was brought into the case by Dr. F. Regis Riesenman, a psychiatrist at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, District of Columbia.

The NAACP made its request to counter "salt and pepper" plan proposed by the Houston school board. Under this plan, only three schools — an elementary, a junior high and a senior high — would be integrated and this would be after Sept. 1, 1961.

U.S. Notes Good Signs Among Reds Tribute Paid To New Soviet Arms Approach

GENEVA (AP) — The United States paid tribute Friday to some "hopeful signs" in the new Soviet approach to the disarmament problem.

The tribute was couched, however, with a firm warning that "the United States will not desert its friends and abandon its participation in the collective defense of the free world."

Assurance that the United States was not prepared to enter into any disarmament agreement that would jeopardize Western security arrangements was voiced by U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton in his first detailed comment on the new Soviet disarmament plan offered by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

AREAS

Eaton told the 10-nation disarmament conference the new plan seemed to embody "encouraging modifications" of the Soviet attitude in four important areas:

1. It spelled out measures of disarmament control in greater detail, which "could be a welcome development if it means that the Soviet delegation is prepared to discuss in concrete terms the requirements for verification (control) of specific disarmament measures."

2. It included for the first time a provision for the study of the "cutoff" of production of fissionable materials for military uses. This too "could be an encouraging sign," but seemed to be tied in with a solution of the whole problem of nuclear disarmament.

3. The Soviet Union seems to have dropped its previous unrealistic position that general and complete disarmament must be completed within four years.

4. The U.S.S.R. seems to agree, at least in principle, on an international peace-keeping force.

The American delegate made it clear, however, that some of the basic provisions of the plan were totally unacceptable to the West.

"There seems to be lacking in the Soviet paper a balance within each stage of the various elements of military power," he said.

The West, he declared, can never agree to "the immediate abolition of the free world's major capabilities for protection against aggression." This, he said, was called for as the very first step of disarmament in the Soviet plan.

U. S. Hurls New Accusation At Castro Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Friday issued a new, strongly worded accusation that the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Cuba is making false and offensive charges against this country.

A copy of the protest went to every other republic in the 21-nation Organization of American States but the State Department said this has no significance. Some diplomats observed that circulation of the document to each of the hemisphere nations might well be preliminary to some formal U.S. action in the OAS.

PROTEST

U.S. officials said the new protest, following a stern and more detailed note to Cuba last Saturday, went to all hemisphere nations because it dealt with a Cuban official pamphlet that also went to other OAS members. The pamphlet was a republication of a speech by Castro which the State Department viewed as an implied attempt to blame the United States for the explosion of the French munitions ship La Coubre in Havana Harbor last March 4. A department official said the pamphlet included gruesome photographs purporting to have been taken at the disaster scene.

U.S. Consul's Body Among Those Found

MACKAY Australia (UPI) — A Trans-Australian turbo-prop airliner, circling an airport in heavy fog waiting for it to clear, crashed into the Pacific Ocean Friday night and all 29 persons aboard, including a U.S. consul and another American, were feared to have perished.

The plane's wreckage was found lying in 35 feet of water.

The Americans were identified as J. F. O'Grady, consul for Queensland, and Vincent Bisson, of Boston, Mass. The body of O'Grady, 40, who is also believed to be a native of Massachusetts, was among the first to be recovered.

OCCUPATION

Bisson had been in Australia only a few months. His occupation was not immediately known.

The plane, a twin-engine Fokker Friendship, was on a regular flight from Brisbane to Mackay with 25 passengers, including a number of holidaying school children, and a crew of four.

The MacKay Airport was covered with dense fog when the plane radioed for landing instructions after the four-hour flight and the control tower ordered the pilot to circle until conditions improved. About 1 1/2 hours later, when the fog had lifted, the control tower received no reply when it tried to contact the plane.

An extensive air and sea search was begun immediately.

The wreckage was found lying in 35 feet of water about two miles south of Flat Top Island. The island is about five miles off the coast, almost directly opposite Mackay.

O'Grady, a career diplomat, joined the foreign service in 1912. He was stationed previously in New Delhi, Montreal, Damascus, Adelaide and Athens.

He opened the consulate in Brisbane in Jan. 1959. O'Grady leaves a wife and two children.

New Missile Industry Strike Seen Looming

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A new strike in the aircraft and missile industry loomed Friday as manufacturers turned down a new contract offer by Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

A union spokesman said "it looks like a strike Wednesday" by 10,000 employees of the firm's Missiles and Space Division, engaged in four high-priority defense programs.

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Chairman John Lewis of a legislative committee investigating whether vote machines can be rigged to alter results said Friday he has given a free hand to a mechanic who claims he can do it.

The joint legislative group headed by the Bureau of Parish Lawmaker convenes in the House chamber a second time Monday at 7 p.m.

State Custodian Douglas Fowler said at the chairman's request, and after checking with the attorney general, he had turned over a machine to C. C. Saxton, who insists he can alter one.

RULES

Under the committee's original ground rules, Saxton measured a machine's working parts under the watchful eyes of Fowler's mechanics, saying he needed to put together rigging devices.

But Lewis Thursday asked the state custodian's mechanics to depart while Saxton worked.

Fowler said the attorney general advised him Fowler couldn't be held responsible, since he complied with the legislative committee's request.

Lewis said he asked the custodian's mechanics to stay away for a reason.

Cloudy Blanket Expected Here

Partly cloudy skies will continue to blanket Twin City skies, while temperatures remain about the same, the weatherman predicted yesterday.

The high reading today is expected to range in the lower 90's, while the low drops to the upper 60's sometimes early tomorrow morning.

Yesterday's high temperature, as recorded at Selman Field in Monroe, was 89 while the low was 70.

Louisiana can look for partly cloudy skies, with scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers predicted in the extreme portions of the state.

Cloudy skies with a few thundershowers are expected in the northwest part of Arkansas this afternoon, while clouds cover most of the state.

Missile 'Kill' Success Noted

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N. M. (AP)—The Army announced Friday the first known kill of a ballistic missile by another missile.

The victim was the big Corporal—the nation's first operational ballistic missile.

The killer was the Nike Hercules, middle member of the Nike anti-aircraft family headed by the Nike Zeus.

An improved guidance system made the kill possible, the Army said.

The same basic guidance system is used by the Zeus, which is being developed as a defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Corporal, a liquid-fuel missile with a range of 75 miles, was brought down by the Hercules June 3 over White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico. The Hercules, already operation-

DEADLINES, FRUSTRATION

'Climate' Noted For Heart Ailment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Take a serious, hard driving young man who feels guilty if he relaxes for a few minutes.

Put him in a challenging job, filled with deadlines, frustrations, worry and discontent.

And you have created an almost perfect climate for a heart attack, a New York City doctor reported Friday.

If this same young man eats a high-fat diet, has heart attack history among his blood relatives, and is a little overweight, "he's a dead duck," said Dr. Henry Russek, consultant to the U. S. Public Health Service.

He and four other heart experts discussed heart and blood vessel disease and occupational stress in a panel session held by the American College of Angiology.

Russek told of a study of 100 young coronary patients and 100 young people with normal hearts for comparison purposes. Ninety-one of the heart patients had been either holding down two jobs, working 60 hours or more a week, or in a job where they regularly met frustration, fear or emotional stress.

Only 20 in the normal heart group were in this job category.

This kind of person is the sort who meets life's challenges with extremely conscientious work, finds little satisfaction in his accomplishments, and sets new goals for himself as soon as old ones are achieved.

Furthermore, he is probably born to be this way, Russek said. It appears this sort of personality may be genetically determined. It is also possible that parental attitudes and environment heighten this sort of personality.

A later study of 4,000 physicians divided equally into four groups—general practitioners, anesthesiologists, pathologists and dermatologists—confirms these stress relationships, Russek said.

The federal suit to invoke the court referee plan was filed several days ago by the U.S. government against Mrs. Pauline Culpepper, Bienville Parish registrar. Gremillion's countersuit was filed in her behalf.

In dismissing the state suit, Dawkins said, "I'm bound to follow law rather than my personal opinions. There's no proper venue and it has not been waived."

Gremillion said the dismissal actually brought the federal suit into sharper focus and "brings the matter to trial in Shreveport, where we wanted it in the first place."

He said Judge Dawkins promised the state's attorneys he would not sign any federal government request for production of voter registration records until the Bienville "court referee" suit is heard and decided. This has the effect of enjoining the U.S. government from securing voter records.

The effect of having the three-judge court at Shreveport is that it delays all litigation pending a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court in the suit of the state attacking constitutionality of the civil rights act.

ing and deepened U.S.-Soviet tension—leaves the Samos as "the only foreseeable means by which we can obtain accurate and timely information about Soviet military installations."

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) said he thinks the Samos is "better than the U2 as an intelligence method."

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. said the U2 high-altitude espionage planes had gathered vital information on Soviet air bases, planes, missiles, atomic production and like military preparations the Soviet Union sought to mask.

The U2 snapped photographs from heights above 60,000 feet. When in operation, Samos reconnaissance satellites will take pictures from as high as 400 miles.

Scientists claim the Samos will be able to scan every square mile of the earth's surface and relay to ground stations the location of Soviet missile bases and any heavy concentration of troops or war material.

Some cameras aboard the Samos will be intended to focus on objects as small as missile launch pads, others to scan wide areas.

The first experimental Samos is due to be lofted into a polar orbit from the West Coast in September.

In another action before sending the defense bill to the Senate for consideration next week, the Appropriations Committee rejected a move by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to increase vastly funds for preparing a round-the-clock airborne alert of the nation's nuclear bombers.

By a 17-4 vote, the committee turned down Symington's proposal to increase those funds to $1.5 billion. The House approved $200 million for such preparations, but the Senate bill cut the total to $85 million asked by President Eisenhower.

Chavez said Eisenhower "has ample authority to use any funds he needs for this purpose" in an emergency situation.

The protest announced Friday was written by John C. Dreier, U.S. ambassador to the OAS, to Carlos Lechuga, Cuban ambassador to the OAS.

Lechuga declined to comment on Dreier's letter.

Dreier protested "continued dissemination" of what were termed "fallacious, baseless and offensive implications and charges, called them 'thinly veiled charges, completely unsubstantiated by evidence,'" and said the implications were "fallacious but also offensive."

Lechuga said the pamphlet "simply contains a speech of Dr. Fidel Castro at the burial of victims of the ship La Coubre," together with photographs of the disaster.

The new accusation against the Castro regime, coming so quickly after last Saturday's aide memoir—diplomatic memorandum—was construed as marking a new low in the increasingly tense relations between Cuba and the United States.

deadline at Douglas' plant in Long Beach, Calif.

In rejecting the Lockheed offer, made Friday at a meeting of company and union officials in San Francisco, IAM representative Tom McVett said: "They offered a small increase in hourly pay but cut the fringe benefits in such a way that the net result would cost our members anywhere from 10 cents to $1.25 an hour in take-home pay."

He said increases in group insurance costs, reductions in disability payments and elimination of expense pay for workers on out-of-town assignments would mean a cut in pay instead of an increase.

The negotiating committee will recommend flat rejection to membership meetings scheduled this weekend.

The union earlier today gave Lockheed a five-day notice of intent to strike if an agreement is not reached.

The union asks a seven per cent increase for members averaging $2.65 hourly.

Lockheed said its offer involved an additional $12 million dollars in pay and benefit increases during a two-year contract, including 3 cents an hour cost-of-living increase immediately and a wage hike of 7 cents an hour in the second year.

McVett said the offer would result in freezing the cost-of-living allowance, now on a sliding scale, and that the net gain in hourly pay would be 7 cents. This, he said, would be more than wiped out by the loss of various fringe benefits.

Meantime, negotiations are expected to resume Saturday in San Diego between Convair and the IAM regarding a contract for workers at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Vandenberg and Edwards Air Force bases in California, Warren AFB, Wyo., and Offutt AFB, Neb.

These field bases seek a contract different from that being negotiated for machinists at Convair plants in San Diego and Pomona, Calif.

IAM employees of Convair at Holloman AFB, N.M., said Friday they will return to work Monday. Their strike was not part of the walkout at the other bases, involving only local issues.

Spokesman said it was understood they would benefit from any agreement reached in San Diego negotiations.

Convair has offered the IAM an 11-cent hourly increase and a 3-cent cost-of-living hike. The IAM wants 14 cents and various fringe benefits. Wage scales range from $1.79 to $9.40 an hour.

The Lockheed dispute involves workers in the San Francisco Bay area, Santa Cruz and Van Nuys, Calif., Vandenberg, Holloman, and Hawaii.

"The target presented by the incoming Corporal was smaller in radar reflectivity than targets for which the Hercules was originally designed," the Army said.

The killer missile's great accuracy was credited to new radars that "can reach out further and more accurately than any similar Hercules ground equipment operating today," it said.

NAACP Drives To Re-Open Va. Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has begun local efforts to force Prince Edward County to reopen its public schools, closed to avoid court-ordered desegregation.

The NAACP also plans to ask for a U.S. District Court order restraining Prince Edward officials from leasing or selling the closed public school buildings to private individuals or corporations.

NAACP plans were disclosed Friday when the organization filed a motion in District Court for permission to file a supplemental complaint in the Prince Edward County school segregation case, which dates back to the early 1950s and was one of five cases involved in the original U.S. Supreme Court desegregation decision of May 1954.

Prince Edward's public schools have been closed since last September.

The county's 1,500 white school children are being educated privately in classes sponsored by the Prince Edward School Foundation. There is no formal education available to Negro pupils.

According to the NAACP complaint, Negro children are being denied public free education in violation of rights guaranteed by the state constitution and the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The NAACP said also it has information that Prince Edward officials are considering leasing or transferring public schools to some private corporation, association, partnership, or individual.

The NAACP added that this program is contemplated in efforts to circumvent and frustrate enforcement of a federal court integration ruling.

Under terms of the proposal agreed to Friday, writers would get a 10 per cent increase in pay for the first two years—the starting salary is now $350 a week—would get their first pension, health and welfare plans, and would get a percentage of sales of motion pictures sold for exhibition on free TV.

In rejecting the Lockheed offer, made Friday at a meeting of company and union officials in San Francisco, IAM representative Tom McNett said: "They offered a small increase in hourly pay but cut the fringe benefits in such a way that the net result would cost our members anywhere from 10 cents to $1.23 an hour in take-home pay."

He said increases in group insurance costs, reductions in disability payments and elimination of expense pay for workers on out-of-town assignments would mean a cut in pay instead of an increase. The negotiating committee will recommend flat rejection to membership meetings scheduled this weekend.

The union earlier today gave Lockheed a five-day notice of intent to strike if an agreement is not reached.

The union asks a seven per cent increase for members averaging $2.65 hourly.

Lockheed said its offer involved an additional 3 1/2 million dollars in pay and benefit increases during a two-year contract, including 8 cents an hour cost-of-living increase immediately and a wage hike of 7 cents an hour in the second year.

McNett said the offer would result in freezing the cost-of-living allowance, now on a sliding scale, and that the net gain in hourly pay would be 7 cents. This, he said, would be more than wiped out by the loss of various fringe benefits.

Meantime, negotiations are expected to resume Saturday in San Diego between Convair and the IAM regarding a contract for workers at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Vandenberg and Edwards Air Force bases in California, Warren AFB, Wyo., and Offutt AFB, Neb.

ing and deepened U.S.-Soviet tension—leaves the Samos as "the only foreseeable means by which we can obtain accurate and timely information about Soviet military installations."

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) said he thinks the Samos is "better than the U2 as an intelligence method."

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. said the U2 high-altitude espionage planes had gathered vital information on Soviet air bases, planes, missiles, atomic production and like military preparations the Soviet Union sought to mask.

The U2 snapped photographs from heights above 69,000 feet. When in operation, Samos reconnaissance satellites will take pictures from as high as 400 miles.

Scientists claim the Samos will be able to scan every square mile of the earth's surface and relay to ground stations the location of Soviet missile bases and any heavy concentration of troops or war material.

Some cameras aboard the Samos will be intended to focus on objects as small as missile launch pads, others to scan wide areas.

The first experimental Samos is due to be lofted into a polar orbit from the West Coast in September.

In another action before sending the defense bill to the Senate for consideration next week, the Appropriations Committee rebuffed a move by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to increase vastly funds for preparing a round-the-clock airborne alert of the nation's nuclear bombers.

By a 17-4 vote, the committee turned down Symington's proposal to increase those funds to 415 million dollars. The House approved 200 million for such preparations, but the Senate bill cut the total to the 85 million asked by President Eisenhower.

Chavez said Eisenhower "has ample authority to use any funds he needs for this purpose" in an emergency situation.

accusing the Castro government of an "intense official campaign of slander" against the United States, never has been published in full in Cuba, a U.S. official said.

The protest announced Friday was written by John C. Dreier, U.S. ambassador to the OAS, to Carlos Lechuga, Cuban ambassador to the OAS.

Lechuga declined to comment on Dreier's letter.

Dreier protested "continued dissemination" of what were termed fallacious, baseless and offensive implications and charges, called them "thinly veiled charges, completely unsubstantiated by evidence," and said the implications were "fallacious but also offensive."

Lechuga said the pamphlet "simply contains a speech of Dr. Fidel Castro at the burial of victims of the ship La Coubre," together with photographs of the disaster.

The new accusation against the Castro regime, coming so quickly after last Saturday's aide memoir—diplomatic memorandum—was construed as marking a new low in the increasingly tense relations between Cuba and the United States.

be much tighter than for Hagerty. The official welcome is being planned on a scale large enough to swamp the largest demonstration that the leftists probably can mobilize. Plans call for 600,000 Japanese to line the airport road to welcome Eisenhower.

But nobody can guarantee that public opinion or the police will be strong enough to deter fanatics from causing serious embarrassment or even harm to Eisenhower.

There is some speculation that the Hagerty incident was allowed to develop in hopes of hastening public revulsion to the demonstrations.

Police have admitted they blundered in assigning only 600 guards to the airport, despite thousands of demonstrators massed there in response to advance publicity.

Hours before Hagerty's plane landed, it was obvious that the demonstrators, lining the only two airport access roads, could stop any car. Yet the car bearing Hagerty and MacArthur moved directly into their trap.

Writers Guild In Agreement With Studios

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Writers Guild of America reached agreement Friday on a new contract with the big Hollywood studios.

The Guild's governing council recommended that the membership accept the offer—meaning an end to the writers' five-month strike.

The agreement wouldn't affect the Guild strike against producers of television films. But a spokesman said the Guild and the TV film producers are "very close to an agreement."

Under terms of the proposal agreed to Friday, writers would get a 10 per cent increase in pay for the first two years—the starting salary is now $350 a week—would get their first pension, health and welfare plans, and would get a percentage of sales of motion pictures sold for exhibition on free TV.

BY POLICE JURY

Blacktopping Of Four Roads Set

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury voted last night to begin blacktopping on four roads in five wards at a total cost of $8,972.73 per mile. The four roads entail 14.2 miles to be blacktopped.

Acting on a recommendation by committee chairman Leland Carpenter, whose committee was to consider bids on the projects, Ward Seven Juror W. O. Roberts made the motion that the parish reject all submitted bids, and undertake the project themselves. The lowest bid for the entire job was $10,911.69 per mile by Benny F. Hawkins, contractor.

Roberts motion was to rent two small two speed mixers for the project from Contractor's Equipment and begin the work immediately. Roberts said "We have messed around long enough."

This means that the parish will do the blacktopping, including soil cement base and complete blacktopping work. The parish will buy its own cement, and bids have already been taken on the cost of cement. The cement contract, it agreeable with parties involved, will be shared jointly by Monroe Concrete Company, Inc. and Century Ready Mix Company. Both companies submitted bids of $3.32 per barrel of cement.

The police jury is considering buying a speed mixer, and was told by the Contractor's Equipment salesman, Al Josephs, that the amount paid in rental for the two machines used in this project would be deducted from the price of the one they buy, if they decide to purchase one. Rental for the two machines to be used will amount to $850 per mile, and was figured in the $8,972.73 figure for the entire job per mile.

Roads to be blacktopped are the Stubbs - Vinson Road, Ward 2; Moore Road, Ward 3; Harrell Road, Ward 5; and the Caples Road, Ward 7 and Ward 8.

Jurors also elected another committee member to the Committee for the Detention Homes, to take the place of Ollie C. Carter. Elected was Rankin Earle, Ward 3.

In other matters, the Jury was notified of the intent of a Ward Five resident, I. B. Haynes, to bring suit against the parish for damage done to his cotton last year. He claims that $700 worth of damage was done to his cotton, when the police jury sent a sprayer to spray the ditches near his cotton field. The compound used in the spray damaged his crop, Haynes claimed. He plans to file suit June 15.

2 Frog Hunters Are Fined $25

Two Ferriday men were fined $25 and court costs each on two counts when they pleaded guilty to violations of the game laws affecting bullfrogs.

Clyde Wilbur Regan and Paul Clifton Lunsford each pleaded guilty to possession of firearms while taking bullfrogs during the night time and taking bullfrogs during closed season. They were taken into custody last month in Wham Brake.

Judge David I. Garrett pointed out that state statutes prohibit having any type of firearms in the possession, or in the boat, while hunting frogs at night. Many persons do not know this, the judge said.

The two were charged with, and pleaded guilty to hunting and taking frogs on May 21. Bullfrogs may be hunted anytime of the year except during the months of April and May.

Earthquake Hunt System Plans Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government earthquake hunters Friday disclosed plans to strengthen the United States' global system for locating earthquakes. They hope to speed the day when it may be possible to forecast great temblors like the one that terrorized Chile.

The venture was disclosed by seismologists of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey which serves as a nerve center for a worldwide of approximately 300 seismograph stations, 275 of them in co-operating foreign countries, including the Soviet bloc.

They said plans are afoot to install $500,000 worth of improved seismological equipment in 50 American and foreign stations during 1960 and in an additional 75 in 1961.

This effort, together with a promising new system involving use of an electronic computer to speed up interpretation of worldwide earthquake data, conceivably will make possible increasing from 1,500 to perhaps 4,000 the number of earthquakes definitely located each year from among approximately one million—of all sizes—which shake the planet annually.

Seismologist R. J. Brazee told reporters the new program is aimed specifically at: 1. increasing the number, and accuracy of location, of epicenters—that is, precise centers—of earthquakes; 2. speeding up the rate of location; and 3. encouraging fundamental research on earthquakes in general.

Brazee said approximations of the specific source of a given earthquake can be made in a couple of hours but that it takes six to seven hours to pin this down with accuracy by ordinary mathematical means. And pinpointing some earthquakes may require up to two days.

But he said his agency is now experimenting with a robot system—employing an International Business Machine computer—which "grinds out locations at phenomenal speed—so fast, in fact, that it's almost ridiculous."

Catholic Weekly Gives Comment On Suicide

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic weekly, America, said Friday that suicide is evil whatever the circumstances, and the government has no right to order a captured spy to kill himself.

Referring to the U2 spy plane incident, in which the captured American pilot was reported by the Russians to be carrying a poisoned "special pin" for use in case of capture, the Jesuit-edited magazine said: "If true, apparently the instinct of self-preservation triumphed over the unwritten code of secret agents."

The editorial said suicide is "an intrinsically evil act," regardless of circumstances or motives, and cannot "be excused by appeals to honor nor hallowed by reasons of state."

"Neither can the spy find a way out of his dilemma by saying that when he kills himself, he does so not on his own authority but on that of the state. The state has no competence in the matter of destroying an innocent human life."

To argue otherwise is to subscribe to the essential principle of totalitarianism. "If the state can legitimately command an intelligence agent to kill himself, how can we withstand compulsory euthanasia or all the other vagaries of social engineering that make a mockery of the public philosophy of inalienable rights."

NINE YEARS AGO

U. S. Pilot Tells Of Russian Flights

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Daily News said Friday a U.S. pilot still in military service told its reporters he made reconnaissance flights over Russia as long as nine years ago.

The pilot called President Truman's statement that he vetoed spy flights over Russia "a lot of bunk," the Daily News reported. "We were told that the State Department knew about it, and I imagine if the State Department knew it, Mr. Truman did also," the pilot was quoted as saying.

In New York Truman told newsmen it was possible that such flights were conducted, but that they were without his permission. He said he did not know of any such flights and that he did not think they were "right or necessary at that time."

The Daily News reported an interview with the pilot in a dispatch under a New York date-line. The newspaper said the airman asked that his name not be revealed.

The newspaper said the pilot told reporters that flights over Russia in RB-30's, a variety of reconnaissance bomber, began "about the time of the Korean War" and that he took part in 1951 in flights over northern Siberia.

"We were told that if we ever got caught we would be treated as spies," the pilot was quoted as saying. "One briefing officer said: 'you might look at it this way—you have no Uncle Sam.'"

"The spy flights were the best kept secret in the Air Force. We knew about them and the Russians knew what was going on—but the flights were classified secret to keep the American people from demanding they stop."

The Daily News said the pilot related that photographs taken during the flights were used in Strategic Air Command briefings.

Ex-President Truman said in Chicago Monday that such spy flights were proposed to him in 1949 to 1950, but that he forbade them on grounds that they were improper and unnecessary. No espionage flights were made over Russia with his permission, Truman said.

Group In Manila To Welcome Ike

MANILA (AP) — A left-wing labor group Friday night abandoned plans to stage an anti-American demonstration timed for President Eisenhower's arrival here Tuesday.

This removed the only link in a giant welcome being prepared for the American President when he arrives for a state visit.

The National Labor Confederation announced that instead the group would join the welcomers, this year.

To cut down this traveling about, Herter said, would mean greater delegation of responsibility to chief subordinates "and greater reliance upon the normal mechanisms of diplomacy."

He testified before a subcommittee investigating whether the government's policy making machinery functions as efficiently as it should.

Despite the summit debacle, Herter apparently did not extend his misgivings to diplomatic travels by the President. He said he believes personal meetings of heads of state are desirable— "there is no substitute for personal relations."

Generally, Herter said the burden of the presidency should be lightened but that he had no pat answers for how to do this.

He said Congress can find a fertile field if it cares to review the need for the "tremendous number" of boards and commissions reporting directly to the President.

During the 414 days he has been in office, Herter said, he has been out of the country 156 days, or 38 per cent of the time.

When the secretary of state is here the protocol requirements that make it necessary for him to greet and entertain visiting foreign dignitaries are very time consuming, he continued.

Blacktopping Of Four Roads Set

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury voted last night to begin blacktopping on four roads in five wards at a total cost of $9,972.73 per mile. The four roads entail 14.2 miles to be blacktopped.

Acting on a recommendation by committee chairman Leland Carpenter, whose committee was to consider bids on the projects, Ward Seven Juror W. O. Roberts made the motion that the parish reject all submitted bids, and undertake the project themselves. The lowest bid for the entire job was $10,911.69 per mile by Benny F. Hawkins, contractor.

Roberts motion was to rent two small two speed mixers for the project from Contractor's Equipment and begin the work immediately. Roberts said "We have messed around long enough."

His motion, which was carried unanimously, was seconded by Ward One member F. G. Studard.

This means that the parish will do the blacktopping, including soil cement base and complete blacktopping work. The parish will buy its own cement, and bids have already been taken on the cost of cement. The cement contract, it agreeable with parties involved, will be shared jointly by Monroe Concrete Company, Inc. and Century Ready Mix Company. Both companies submitted bids of $3.32 per barrel of cement.

The police jury is considering buying a speed mixer, and was told by the Contractor's Equipment salesman, Al Josephs, that the amount paid in rental for the two machines used in this project would be deducted from the price of the one they buy, if they decide to purchase one. Rental for the two machines to be used will amount to $950 per mile, and was figured in the $9,972.73 figure for the entire job per mile.

Roads to be blacktopped are the Stubbs - Vinson Road, Ward 2; Moore Road, Ward 3; Harrell Road, Ward 5; and the Caples Road, Ward 7 and Ward 8.

Jurors also elected another committee member to the Committee for the Detention Homes, to take the place of Ollie C. Carter. Elected was Rankin Earle, Ward 3.

In other matters, the Jury was notified of the intent of a Ward Five resident, I. B. Haynes, to bring suit against the parish for damage done to his cotton last year. He claims that $700 worth of damage was done to his cotton, when the police jury sent a sprayer to spray the ditches near his cotton field. The compound used in the spray damaged his crop, Haynes claimed. He plans to file suit June 15.

2 Frog Hunters Are Fined $25

Two Ferriday men were fined $25 and court costs each on two counts when they pleaded guilty to violations of the game laws affecting bullfrogs.

Clyde Wilbur Regan and Paul Clifton Lunsford each pleaded guilty to possession of firearms while taking bullfrogs during the night time and taking bullfrogs during closed season. They were taken into custody last month in Wham Brake.

Judge David I. Garrett pointed out that state statutes prohibit having any type of firearms in the possession, or in the boat, while hunting frogs at night. Many persons do not know this, the judge said.

The two were charged with, and pleaded guilty to hunting and taking frogs on May 21. Bullfrogs may be hunted anytime of the year except during the months of April and May.

Earthquake Hunt System Plans Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government earthquake hunters Friday disclosed plans to strengthen the United States' global system for locating earthquakes. They hope to speed the day when it may be possible to forecast great temblors like the one that terrorized Chile.

The venture was disclosed by seismologists of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey which serves as a nerve center for a worldwide of approximately 300 seismograph stations, 275 of them in co-operating foreign countries, including the Soviet bloc.

They said plans are afoot to install $500,000 worth of improved seismological equipment in 50 American and foreign stations during 1960 and in an additional 75 in 1961.

This effort, together with a promising new system involving use of an electronic computer to speed up interpretation of worldwide earthquake data, conceivably will make possible increasing from 1,500 to perhaps 4,000 the number of earthquakes definitely located each year from among approximately one million—of all sizes—which shake the planet annually.

Seismologist R. J. Brazee told reporters the new program is aimed specifically at: 1. increasing the number, and accuracy of location, of epicenters—that is, precise centers—of earthquakes; 2. speeding up the rate of location; and 3. encouraging fundamental research on earthquakes in general.

Brazee said approximations of the specific source of a given earthquake can be made in a couple of hours but that it takes six to seven hours to pin this down with accuracy by ordinary mathematical means. And pinpointing some earthquakes may require up to two days.

But he said his agency is now experimenting with a robot system—employing an International Business Machine computer—which "grinds out locations at phenomenal speed—so fast, in fact, that it's almost ridiculous."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic weekly, America, said Friday that suicide is evil whatever the circumstances, and the government has no right to order a captured spy to kill himself.

Referring to the U2 spy plane incident, in which the captured American pilot was reported by the Russians to be carrying a poisoned "special pin" for use in case of capture, the Jesuit-edited magazine said: "If true, apparently the instinct of self-preservation triumphed over the unwritten code of secret agents."

The editorial said suicide is "an intrinsically evil act," regardless of circumstances or motives, and cannot "be excused by appeals to honor nor hallowed by reasons of state."

"Neither can the spy find a way out of his dilemma by saying that when he kills himself, he does so not on his own authority but on that of the state. The state has no competence in the matter of destroying an innocent human life."

"To argue otherwise is to subscribe to the essential principle of totalitarianism."

"If the state can legitimately command an intelligence agent to kill himself, how can we withstand the compulsive euthanasia or all the other vagaries of social engineering that make a mockery of the public philosophy of inalienable rights."

U. S. Pilot Tells Of Russian Flights

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Daily News said Friday a U.S. pilot still in military service told its reporters he made reconnaissance flights over Russia as long as nine years ago.

The pilot called President Truman's statement that he vetoed spy flights over Russia "a lot of bunk," the Daily News reported.

"We were told that the State Department knew about it, and I imagine if the State Department knew it, Mr. Truman did also," the pilot was quoted as saying.

In New York Truman told newsmen it was possible that such flights were conducted, but that they were without his permission. He said he did not know of any such flights and that he did not think they were "right or necessary at that time."

The Daily News reported an interview with the pilot in a dispatch under a New York date-line. The newspaper said the airman asked that his name not be revealed.

The newspaper said the pilot told reporters that flights over Russia in RB-50's, a variety of reconnaissance bomber, began "About the time of the Korean War" and that he took part in 1951 in flights over northern Siberia.

"We were told that if we ever got caught we would be treated as spies," the pilot was quoted as saying. "One briefing officer said: 'you might look at it this way—you have no Uncle Sam.'"

"The spy flights were the best kept secret in the Air Force. We knew about them and the Russians knew what was going on—but the flights were classified secret to keep the American people from demanding they stop."

The Daily News said the pilot related that photographs taken during the flights were used in Strategic Air Command briefings.

Ex-President Truman said in Chicago Monday that such spy flights were proposed to him in 1949 to 1950, but that he forbade them on grounds that they were improper and unnecessary. No espionage flights were made over Russia with his permission, Truman said.

'Twelve-Man Exemption'

Because Louisiana is one of the leading forestry-products states and because of the huge pulpwood industry in northeast Louisiana a proposal in congress to change forestry working regulations is of more than ordinary interest here. An effort is being made to bring small-scale logging and forestry operations under the minimum wage provisions, but, in many instances, this would prove disastrous.

The great bulk of all pulpwood consumed in the United States today is produced by many thousands of small businessmen employing 12 or fewer persons.

Pulpwood is generally produced by groups of men scattered over large areas working alone or, at most, with two or three other people. Often a worker may be half a mile or more from another. In all forest regions except the west there are few large timber stands, and most productive land is owned by small farmers. A single producer's crew may be scattered even further among a number of woodlots in different areas. Under these conditions the small business producer can not possibly keep the detailed time records on his employees which are required by law except where the exemption applies.

Small-scale forestry and logging operations were exempted from the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions of the fair labor standards act by amendments adopted in 1949 and which became effective January 23, 1950.

The exemption section reads: "The (minimum-wage and overtime-pay) provisions . . . shall not apply with respect to any employee employed in planting or tending trees, cruising, surveying, or felling timber, or in the preparing or transporting of logs or other forestry products to the mill, processing plant, railroad, or other transportation terminal, if the number of employees employed by his employer in such forestry or lumbering operations does not exceed twelve."

Loss of the exemption would mean that the small employer would either have to hire a time-keeper or become one himself, thus substantially increasing his cost of doing business or reducing his own chances of doing productive work.

Morse Raps Kennedy

No Republican candidate has struck such a hard blow at Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts as has his fellow Democrat, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"The American people should make clear to Senator Kennedy that the white house will never be put up for sale," Morse asserted. He described as "gross misrepresentations" Kennedy claims of very modest primary spending.

Senator Morse has demanded that the senate investigate Kennedy's spending in the Democratic primaries. In a Democratic primary in Oregon which had no real bearing on the nomination of a presidential candidate, Kennedy trounced Morse in the latter's own state.

Another Democrat who asserted whole sections of votes were bought in an election in which Kennedy was involved was Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who withdrew as a presidential contender after Kennedy defeated him in West Virginia.

As the pros in Washington view it, the battle for the presidential nomination, as well as for control of the Democratic party, is shaping up into a struggle between the tall Texan, Lyndon B. Johnson, and Walter Reuther, A.F.L.-C.I.O. boss, who reportedly has long possessed a veto power on the Democratic presidential nomination. The crisis will come at the party's national convention in Los Angeles, opening July 11.

In his stalwart position of Production of forest products, like farming, cannot be conducted on the basis of a regularly scheduled work week of 40 hours or even a day of eight hours, as in the case of factory operation. Many available workmen cut wood as a means of supplementing their regular earnings, so that they may work part time or at times most convenient to themselves. They may work half of one day, eight hours the next, none for a couple of days and maybe 10 hours another day. Eliminating the exemption would make this kind of work impossible without violating the law.

Between 1938, when the wage and hour law was passed, and 1949, there was no 12-man exemption. Pulpwood producers, dealers and others found it impossible to comply with the law which called for factory-type record keeping. Many operators were charged with violations of the law which they were unable to avoid.

Congress recognized the unfairness of the situation and felt that the wage and hour division could not and should not force these requirements on small operators who did not and could not pay workers on an hourly basis. This resulted in the enactment of the present 12-man exemption which some congressmen would now take away from the industry.

These producers and their workers are not and never were on the payrolls of pulp and paper mill companies or of large logging companies, as has been claimed by union leaders.

Elimination of the exemption would not raise the earnings of most woods workers. It would force higher non-productive costs on small producers. Without the exemption, the wood which is being processed by the small producer would, in many cases, be produced by larger operators who might stand the extra expense of supervision and record-keeping. Thus the small operator, who now handles most of the pulpwood and timber now used by the large mills, as well as the small ones, would gradually be forced out of business by federal regulation.

There was ample reason for allowing the 12-man exemption and this provision should be allowed to stand.

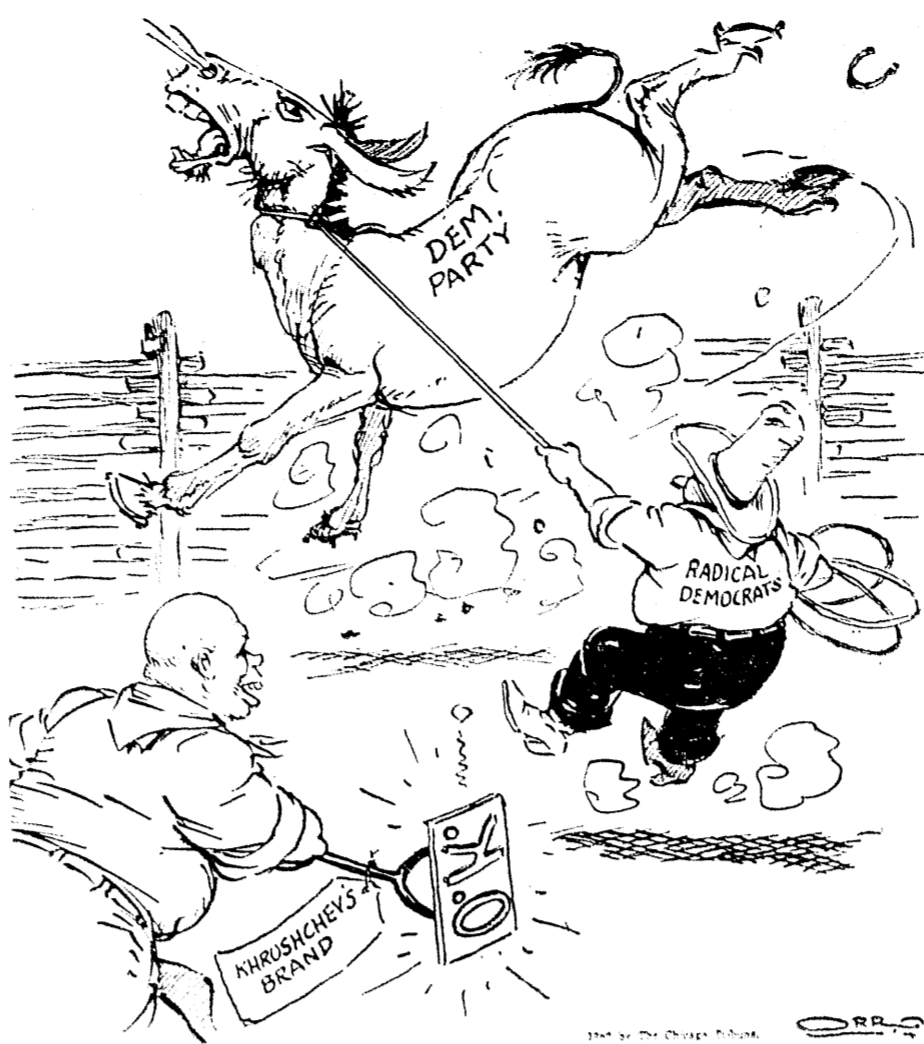

"stand by Ike against Khrushchev," Senator Johnson's chances have been rated as rising sharply in the past fortnight. The other hopefuls, Adlai Stevenson, former governor of Illinois, Senator Kennedy and Senator Symington, have taken the path of "appease Russia," which naturally is pleasing to Mr. Reuther.

Adlai has been getting deeper into hot water. The French news correspondent who had drawn frank admission of "appeasement" from Stevenson has begun to talk and tell more details of the indiscreet interview which the former governor gave him.

Kennedy's stance has appeared similar to Adlai's, namely that "Ike should have apologized to Khrushchev." There is one thing the American people don't want and that is a groveler. No right-minded person in this country wants President Eisenhower or any other American to bow down to the Soviet sycophant. Stevenson, Kennedy and Stuart Symington of Missouri, who trails along as a pint-size version of Adlai and Jack, are virtually the only ones who have suggested United States submission to the bull of Russia.

Significantly, there have come some excited reports from the Democratic grass roots that Kennedy seems likely to lose many Catholic votes because of his attacks on some recent edicts and his assertion that he is not bound by the pronouncements of the high officials of his church.

Census Political Waves

New Population Figures Will Result In Changes In House Of Representatives, Seats Threatened

The census count is almost over. But political tidal waves it created will roll in within two years.

This is because new population figures will result in changes in the House of Representatives; the tides threaten political survival of many "safe" seats in Congress.

These could be non-existent in the 1962 congressional election. And a second wave may be decisive in the presidential contest of 1964.

Some ripples and eddies may rock boats in state legislatures, too. These will have to redistrict congressional districts — always a delicate political task — and they will have to consider how the census count reflects on representation in their own houses.

Thirteen states will lose representation in Washington and six will gain under results of this year's count, according to estimates.

Within the states representation in legislatures will be affected by a nationwide "flight to the suburbs" from big cities during the past decade.

These newly congested areas are certain to demand better representation. They will face equally certain opposition from presently rural-dominated legislatures in getting it.

States scheduled for increased seating in the House of Representatives are Texas, 2; California, 7; Florida, 4; Arizona, 1; Hawaii, 1; and Michigan, 2.

Scheduled to lose: Arkansas, 2; Kansas, 1; Mississippi, 1; Georgia, 1; Alabama, 1; Iowa, 1; Maine, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Minnesota, 1; New York, 3; North Carolina, 1; Pennsylvania, 3; and West Virginia, 1.

These losers will have to either re-district or elect their entire congressional delegation from the state at large.

Significance of this is felt in national election procedures.

Each state has as many electoral votes as it has senators and representatives. And a state's strength at national party nominating conventions is determined by the size of the delegation in congress.

Thus the census count will affect not only a state's delegation size in Congress but will also play a part in determining its influence on the national scene.

One factor likely to cause the political boat to rock harder than any other is rural opposition to lessening of its representation, both in Congress and in state legislatures.

Country-based politicians often claim that population should not be the sole criterion in determining representation for an area; they say that factors like farm production, tax contributions and tradition are as sound a basis for election power as that of population.

But the law is based on population only.

The Constitution first set the size of the House at 65 members for the 13 states. The number increased steadily until the 1920 census when it arrived at 435.

This figure remained constant through the census of 1930 and 1940, although re-apportionments of various state delegations took place.

The normal number in the House is still 435; admission of Hawaii and Alaska to statehood last year temporarily raised this to its present 437. The House will revert to the 435 figure in 1963 with the loss absorbed by other states.

There was no re-apportionment in 1920. The Constitution does not specifically require apportionment every 10 years, but under a 1929 law this is done unless Congress decides otherwise. This law, the automatic reapportionment law, says that during the first week of a January following a census the president must send to Congress a new apportionment based on census figures.

The Constitution says the number of representatives shall not exceed one for every 30,000 people. This may have been a good idea in 1787, but if it held to that today we would have 6000 members in the House.

And that's a lot of politicians, even for Washington.

Daily Devotional

Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying. — Proverbs 19:18

The time to correct the children that we are trying to rear as good citizens and good Christians is when they are young and when habits and ideas have not been firmly established. We can have great influence on the young people about us by our own acts of kindness, helpfulness and in our attitude toward the church. But when it comes to a showdown, we must not let our love for children and young people stand in the way of taking stern corrective measures, if such is indicated.

Father, help us to be good parents and leaders in dealing with our young people that they may be saved. In Christ's name we ask, Amen.

Kennedy Money

Candidates Square Off On Amount Spent In West Virginia

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On Memorial Day the President did not lay the traditional wreaths upon the honored American war dead either at the National Cemetery at Arlington or at the sanctified battle ground at Gettysburg. The President was not around town that rainy weekend to talk things over with the visiting emissaries of the SEATO powers. Only a few Senators (but none of those running to succeed Mr. Eisenhower) were available for comment on Marshal Malinovsky's threat to shoot missiles into any allied base that permitted a reconnaissance flight over Communist territory anywhere on earth.

But out on the highways Americans were killing themselves in the high numbers of about 375. A scaffolding at the Indianapolis Speedway crashed, killing two and injuring 70 of the 200,000 spectators who had gathered to see the death-defying 500-mile race. An eyewitness to the tragedy said people not ten feet on either side were interested in the race and not in the screams and moans of the injured. In Chicago the Cleveland Indian centerfielder, Jimmy Piersall, put on a temper tantrum for no particular reason. And in New York, a mob of admirers went off their heads and with celebrity-dementia attacked outfielder Mantle so that he and several assailants were seriously rushed up.

Meanwhile, as the news developed during last week, it appeared that the two leading candidates to become 36th President and Free World leader were squaring off on an issue that is about as inconsequential as the color of their eyes. How much money did Senator Kennedy spend in winning the West Virginia primary? Was it under $100,000 as his spokesmen claim? Was it up to $500,000 or more as Vice President Nixon would like to show?

How the outcome will prove either Kennedy or Nixon to be fit for the White House job is not yet clear. But political experts were still waiting that the strongest possible Republican candidate, Governor Nelson Rockefeller, could not get his name ty's nomination, and that the most conspicuous leader in the Democratic party, Senator Lyndon Johnson, was in the same fix. The American political system seemed to be controlled by a lock-in device to insure that nobody better than second-choice candidates be at our disposal in the 1960's.

The 86th Congress was getting into late innings, with its character not yet fully formed. The first five months of session were spent on matters unrelated to the real fix our republic is in. The Senate tried for a civil rights formula which would (a) assist lower advocates in getting race-minded votes and (b) allow the opponents to tell their constituents that nothing of importance had been changed. The House went after petty wrong-doers in the entertainment fields of radio, television, and caught a few regulatory administrators hooking free airplane and yacht rides. As the weather warmed up, the political gossip concerned how many Presidential vetoes the Congress could override this year, and what sort of "detente" (De Gaulle's visit and use of the word had put it on everybody's tongue) we would get at the summit.

All the while, Democratic Liberals were trying to get more money for welfare even if it meant less money for Defense, while Republicans in general were still playing leave-it-to-like. Somewhat unnoticed the Kefauver subcommittee was still chipping away at national confidence in private enterprise, exposing gaudy profits in the drug business and, by inference, in the entire business structure. This might be more injurious than generally supposed, since Big Business is producing the weapons systems that are vital in staying off a Russian attack.

After the U2 fiasco and the Summit fiasco, Congressional action went underground. The Democrats do not approve the Eisenhower handling of foreign policy, but cannot very well imitate a policy of their own. The Republicans hope for little else than to end the session without a major catastrophe — having little confidence that the could cope with it.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Party Expenses

Democrats And Republicans Engaged In Looking For Funds

Democrats and Republicans are presently engaged in a joint perennial worry. Their common money-raising efforts have reported to each party hierarchy that election expenses are going to exceed all past records this year and that the necessary money is going to be very hard to come by.

Total costs of the 1960 election is now figured at $175,000,000. This is based on a study by the University of North Carolina giving the cost of the 1952 election at $140,000,000 and an estimate that the costs jumped to $155,000,000 in 1956.

Of course this astronomical sum was not spent at the national level. Likely the amount spent nationally will be around $200,000 for both parties. The other will be spent in State and local elections.

Presently the party money-raisers are still thinking in immediate terms of thousands, not millions. The Los Angeles host committee has already paid $200,000 of its $450,000 contract with the Democratic National Committee for giving it the convention. With other plans the Democrats hope to get a sufficient amount to pay off the $175,000 deficit remaining from the 1956 campaign.

Chicago is paying over approximately $100,000 to the Republican National Committee for awarding it the Republican convention and the Republican National Committee expects to get another $125,000 from a convention souvenir program. Getting the thousands is a tight squeeze and a harbinger of the harder task that will be faced when they begin to raise millions after the conventions.

Of course there will never be anything approaching a complete account of the funds expended by either of the major parties. The Corrupt Practices Act was passed in 1905 during the second term of Theodore Roosevelt. It was considerably amended and strengthened in 1925 during the term of Calvin Coolidge.

That Coolidge Administration law is 35 years old, and in present conditions antiquated. In January of this year the Senate passed a "clean elections" bill by a vote of 50 to 39. Its proponents tried to take in more territory than the conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats were willing to have it take. It made State primaries for Federal office subject to campaign spending limits and reporting requirements. The result was that the legislation crumpled and died in the House of Representatives.

Present law imposes a limit of $3,000 on donations but this is interpreted to govern only the amount that can be given to one candidate by one committee. Moreover wealthy families may distribute their contributions among various members of the family. The law is full of other inviting loopholes that a generation of politicians have discovered.

There is no doubt that the 1960 "clean elections" bill was unrealistic. Senator Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, Republican Senate leader, contended that the bill would "make every candidate a bookkeeper, a detective and an accountant with a CPA degree." At any rate the coming election will be held under the old law.

Neither party in recent years has been overwhelmed with voluntary donations. Both have passed the collection plate in every conceivable manner. One method has been to have $100-a-plate dinner at which $2 or $3 worth of food was served. There have been fish fries, clam-bakes, picnics, barbecues and other devices.

But both parties continued to get most of their money in donations by individuals, running from $1 to $500. In $500 contributions Republicans will get at least 1 to 2 to every 1 for the Democrats.

Popular conception is that the Republicans have a "war chest" contributed by "Wall Street" and "Texas Oil Millionaires." Both sources have been to a large extent a figment of the imagination. Especially has this been true of the Texas oil contributions which allegedly show up in almost any local political contest throughout the country and go to candidates of arch-conservative tendencies.

The fact is that the lavish giving oil men are mostly no longer in the land of the living. The new oil men are management men on salaries. Moreover segments of the domestic oil industry in June, 1960, are operating under near-depression conditions.

Labor again will be the principal source of Democratic funds. In the 1958 Congressional election labor groups reported expenditures of $1,300,000 as compared with $1,700,000 reported by Democratic groups. Labor also spent large sums for "education" and it is difficult to tell where "education" leaves off and "politics" begin. In reality labor's principal role is in mobilizing men and women to bring out the vote.

'Twelve-Man Exemption'

Because Louisiana is one of the leading forestry-products states and because of the huge pulpwood industry in northeast Louisiana a proposal in congress to change forestry working regulations is of more than ordinary interest here. An effort is being made to bring small-scale logging and forestry operations under the minimum wage provisions, but, in many instances, this would prove disastrous.

The great bulk of all pulpwood consumed in the United States today is produced by many thousands of small businessmen employing 12 or fewer persons.

Pulpwood is generally produced by groups of men scattered over large areas working alone or, at most, with two or three other people. Often a worker may be half a mile or more from another. In all forest regions except the west there are few large timber stands, and most productive land is owned by small farmers. A single producer's crew may be scattered even further among a number of woodlots in different areas. Under these conditions the small business producer can not possibly keep the detailed time records on his employees which are required by law except where the exemption applies.

Small-scale forestry and logging operations were exempted from the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions of the fair labor standards act by amendments adopted in 1949 and which became effective January 25, 1950.

The exemption section reads: "The (minimum-wage and overtime-pay) provisions . . . shall not apply with respect to any employee employed in planting or tending trees, cruising, surveying, or felling timber, or in the preparing or transporting of logs or other forestry products to the mill, processing plant, railroad, or other transportation terminal, if the number of employees employed by his employer in such forestry or lumbering operations does not exceed twelve."

Loss of the exemption would mean that the small employer would either have to hire a time-keeper or become one himself, thus substantially increasing his cost of doing business or reducing his own chances of doing productive work.

Morse Raps Kennedy

No Republican candidate has struck such a hard blow at Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts as has his fellow Democrat, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"The American people should make clear to Senator Kennedy that the white house will never be put up for sale," Morse asserted. He described as "gross misrepresentations" and "unadulterated falsehoods" Kennedy claims of very modest primary spending.

Senator Morse has demanded that the senate investigate Kennedy's spending in the Democratic primaries. In a Democratic primary in Oregon which had no real bearing on the nomination of a presidential candidate, Kennedy trounced Morse in the latter's own state.

Another Democrat who asserted whole sections of votes were bought in an election in which Kennedy was involved was Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who withdrew as a presidential contender after Kennedy defeated him in West Virginia.

As the pros in Washington view it, the battle for the presidential nomination, as well as for control of the Democratic party, is shaping up into a struggle between the tall Texan, Lyndon B. Johnson, and Walter Reuther, A.F.L.-C.I.O. boss, who reportedly has long possessed a veto power on the Democratic presidential nomination. The crisis will come at the party's national convention in Los Angeles, opening July 11.

In his stalwart position of Production of forest products, like farming, cannot be conducted on the basis of a regularly scheduled work week of 40 hours or even a day of eight hours, as in the case of factory operation. Many available workmen cut wood as a means of supplementing their regular earnings, so that they may work part time or at times most convenient to themselves. They may work half of one day, eight hours the next, none for a couple of days and maybe 10 hours another day. Eliminating the exemption would make this kind of work impossible without violating the law.

Between 1938, when the wage and hour law was passed, and 1949, there was no 12-man exemption. Pulpwood producers, dealers and others found it impossible to comply with the law which called for factory-type record keeping. Many operators were charged with violations of the law which they were unable to avoid.

Congress recognized the unfairness of the situation and felt that the wage and hour division could not and should not force these requirements on small operators who did not and could not pay workers on an hourly basis. This resulted in the enactment of the present 12-man exemption which some congressmen would now take away from the industry.

These producers and their workers are not and never were on the payroll of pulp and paper mill companies or of large logging companies, as has been claimed by union leaders.

Elimination of the exemption would not raise the earnings of most woods workers. It would force higher non-productive costs on small producers. Without the exemption, the wood which is being processed by the small producer would, in many cases, be produced by larger operators who might stand the extra expense of supervision and record-keeping. Thus the small operator, who now handles most of the pulpwood and timber now used by the large mills, as well as the small ones, would gradually be forced out of business by federal regulation.

There was ample reason for allowing the 12-man exemption and this provision should be allowed to stand.

"stand by Ike against Khrushchev," Senator Johnson's chances have been rated as rising sharply in the past fortnight. The other hopefuls, Adlai Stevenson, former governor of Illinois, Senator Kennedy and Senator Symington, have taken the path of "appease Russia," which naturally is pleasing to Mr. Reuther.

Adlai has been getting deeper into hot water. The French news correspondent who had drawn frank admission of "appeasement" from Stevenson has begun to talk and tell more details of the indiscreet interview which the former governor gave him.

Kennedy's stance has appeared similar to Adlai's, namely that "Ike should have apologized to Khrushchev." There is one thing the American people don't want and that is a groveler. No right-minded person in this country wants President Eisenhower or any other American to bow down to the Soviet sycophant. Stevenson, Kennedy and Stuart Symington of Missouri, who trails along as a pint-size version of Adlai and Jack, are virtually the only ones who have suggested United States submission to the bull of Russia.

Significantly, there have come some excited reports from the Democratic grass roots that Kennedy seems likely to lose many Catholic votes because of his attacks on some recent edicts and his assertion that he is not bound by the pronouncements of the high officials of his church.

Census Political Waves

New Population Figures Will Result In Changes In House Of Representatives, Seats Threatened

The census count is almost over. But political tidal waves it created will roll in within two years.

This is because new population figures will result in changes in the House of Representatives; the tides threaten political survival of many "safe" seats in Congress.

These could be non-existent in the 1962 congressional election. And a second wave may be decisive in the presidential contest of 1964.

Some ripples and eddies may rock boats in state legislatures, too. These will have to redistrict congressional districts — always a delicate political task — and they will have to consider how the census count reflects on representation in their own houses.

Thirteen states will lose representation in Washington and six will gain under results of this year's count, according to estimates.

Within the states representation in legislatures will be affected by a nationwide "flight to the suburbs" from big cities during the past decade.

These newly - congested areas are certain to demand better representation. They will face equally certain opposition from presently rural - dominated legislatures in getting it.

States scheduled for increased seating in the House of Representatives are Texas, 2; California, 7; Florida, 4; Arizona, 1; Hawaii, 1; and Michigan, 2.

Scheduled to lose: Arkansas, 2; Kansas, 1; Mississippi, 1; Georgia, 1; Alabama, 1; Iowa, 1; Maine, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Minnesota, 1; New York, 3; North Carolina, 1; Pennsylvania, 3; and West Virginia, 1.

These losers will have to either re-district or elect their entire congressional delegation from the state at large.

Significance of this is felt in national election procedures.

Each state has as many electoral votes as it has senators and representatives. And a state's strength at national party nominating conventions is determined by the size of the delegation in congress.

Thus the census count will affect not only a state's delegation size in Congress but will also play a part in determining its influence on the national scene.

One factor likely to cause the political boat to rock harder than any other is rural opposition to lessening of its representation, both in Congress and in state legislatures.

Country - based politicians often claim that population should not be the sole criterion in determining representation for an area; they say that factors like farm production, tax contributions and tradition are as sound a basis for election power as that of population.

But the law is based on population only.

The Constitution first set the size of the House at 65 members for the 13 states. The number increased steadily until the 1920 census when it arrived at 435.

This figure remained constant through the census of 1930 and 1940, although re-apportionments of various state delegations took place.

The normal number in the House is still 435; admission of Hawaii and Alaska to statehood last year temporarily raised this to its present 437. The House will revert to the 435 figure in 1963 with the loss absorbed by other states.

There was no re-apportionment in 1920. The Constitution does not specifically require apportionment every 10 years, but under a 1929 law this is done unless Congress decides otherwise. This law, the automatic reapportionment law, says that during the first week of a January following a census the president must send to Congress a new apportionment based on census figures.

The Constitution says the number of representatives shall not exceed one for every 30,000 people. This may have been a good idea in 1787, but if it held to that today we would have 6000 members in the House.

And that's a lot of politicians, even for Washington.

Daily Devotional

Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying. — Proverbs 19:18.

The time to correct the children that we are trying to rear as good citizens and good Christians is when they are young and when habits and ideas have not been firmly established. We can have great influence on the young acts of kindness, helpfulness and in our attitude toward the church. But when it comes to a showdown, we must not let our love for children and young people stand in the way of taking stern corrective measures, if such is indicated.

Father, help us to be good parents and leaders in dealing with our young people that they may be saved. In Christ's name we ask, Amen.

Kennedy Money

Candidates Square Off On Amount Spent In West Virginia

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On Memorial Day the President did not lay the traditional wreaths upon the honored American war dead either at the National Cemetery at Arlington or at the sanctified battle ground at Gettysburg. The President was not around town that rainy weekend to talk things over with the visiting emissaries of the SEATO powers. Only a few Senators (but none of those running to succeed Mr. Eisenhower) were available for comment on Marshal Malinovsky's threat to shoot missiles into any allied base that permitted a reconnaissance flight over Communist territory anywhere on earth.

But out on the highways Americans were killing themselves in the high numbers of about 375. A scaffolding at the Indianapolis Speedway crashed, killing two and injuring 70 of the 200,000 spectators who had gathered to see the death-defying 500-mile race. An eyewitness to the tragedy said people not ten feet on either side were interested in the race and not in the screams and moans of the injured. In Chicago the Cleveland Indian centerfielder, Jimmy Piersall, put on a temper tantrum for no particular reason. And in New York, a mob of admirers went off their heads and with celebrity-dementia attacked Outfielder Mantle so that he and several assailants were seriously roughed up.

Meanwhile, as the news developed during last week, it appeared that the two leading candidates to become 35th President and Free World leader were squaring off on an issue that is about as inconsequential as the color of their eyes. How much money did Senator Kennedy spend in winning the West Virginia primary? Was it under $100,000 as his spokesmen claim? Was it up to $500,000 or more as Vice President Nixon would like to show?

How the outcome will prove either Kennedy or Nixon to be fit for the White House job is not yet clear. But political experts were still writing that the strongest possible Republican candidate, Governor Nelson Rockefeller, couldn't get his party's nomination, and that the most conspicuous leader in the Democratic party, Senator Lyndon Johnson, was in the same fix. The American political system seemed to be controlled by a lock-in device to insure that nobody better than second-choice candidates be at our disposal in the 1960's.

The 86th Congress was getting into late innings, with its character not yet fully formed. The first few months of session were spent on matters unrelated to the real fix our republic is in. The Senate tried for a Civil Rights formula which would (a) assist the advocates in getting race-minded votes and (b) allow the opponents to tell their constituents that nothing of importance had been changed. The House went after petty wrong-doers in the entertainment fields of radio, television, and caught a few regulatory administrators hooking free airplane and yacht rides. As the weather warmed up, the political gossip concerned how many Presidential vetoes the Congress could override this year, and what sort of "detente" (De Gaulle's visit and use of the word had put it on everybody's tongue) we would get at the Summit.

All the while, Democratic Liberals were trying to get more money for welfare even if it meant less money for Defense, while Republicans in general were still playing leave-it-to-Ike. Somewhat unnoticed the Kefauver subcommittee was still chipping away at national confidence in private enterprise, exposing profits in the drug business and, by inference, in the entire business structure. This might be more injurious than generally supposed, since Big Business is producing the weapons systems that are vital in staving off a Russian attack.

After the U-2 fiasco and the Summit flopperoo, Congressional action went underground. The Democrats do not approve the Eisenhower handling of foreign policy, but cannot very well initiate a policy of their own. The Republicans hope for little else than to let the session without a major catastrophe — having little confidence that Ike could cope with it.

Party Expenses

Democrats And Republicans Engaged In Looking For Funds

Democrats and Republicans are presently engaged in a joint perennial worry. Their care-worn money - raisers have reported to each party hierarchy that election expenses are going to exceed all past records this year and that the necessary money is going to be very hard to come by.

Total costs of the 1960 election is now figured at $175,000,000. This is based on a study by the University of North Carolina giving the cost of the 1952 election at $140,000,000 and an estimate that the costs jumped to $155,000,000 in 1956.

Of course this astronomical sum was not spent at the national level. Likely the amount spent nationally will be around $200,000,000 for both parties. The other will be spent in State and local elections.

Presently the party money-raisers are still thinking in immediate terms of thousands, not millions. The Los Angeles host committee has already paid $300,000 of its $450,000 contract with the Democratic National Committee for giving it the convention. With other plans the Democrats hope to get a sufficient amount to pay off the $175,000 deficit remaining from the 1956 campaign.

Chicago is paying over approximately $400,000 to the Republican National Committee for awarding it the Republican convention and the Republican National Committee expects to get another $125,000 from a convention souvenir program. Getting the thousands is a tight squeeze and a harbinger of the harder task that will be faced when they begin to raise millions after the conventions.

Of course there will never be anything approaching a complete account of the funds expended by either of the major parties. The Corrupt Practices Act was passed in 1905 during the second term of Theodore Roosevelt. It was considerably amended and strengthened in 1925 during the term of Calvin Coolidge.

That Coolidge Administration law is 35 years old, and in present conditions antediluvian. In January of this year the Senate passed a "clean elections" bill by a vote of 50 to 39. Its proponents tried to take in more territory than the conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats were willing to have it take. It made State primaries for Federal office subject to campaign spending limits and reporting requirements. The result was that the legislation crumpled and died in the House of Representatives.

Present law imposes a limit of $5,000 on donations but this is interpreted to govern only the amount that can be given to one candidate by one committee. Moreover wealthy families may distribute their contributions among various members of the family. The law is full of other inviting loopholes that a generation of politicians have discovered.

There is no doubt that the 1960 "clean elections" bill was unrealistic. Senator Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, Republican Senate leader, contended that the bill would "make every candidate a bookkeeper, a detective and an accountant with a CPA degree." At any rate the coming election will be held under the old law.

Neither party in recent years has been overwhelmed with voluntary donations. Both have passed the collection plate in every conceivable manner. One method has been to have $100-a-plate dinner at which $2 or $3 worth of food was served. There have been fish fries, clambakes, picnics, barbecues and other devices.

But both parties continued to get most of their money in donations by individuals, running from $1 to $5000. In $5,000 contributions Republicans will get at least 3 to every 1 for the Democrats.

Popular conception is that the Republicans have a "war chest" contributed by "Wall Street" and "Texas Oil Millionaires." Both sources have been to a large extent a figment of the imagination. Especially has this been true of the Texas oil contributions which allegedly show up in almost any local political contest throughout the country and go to candidates of arch - conservative tendencies.

The fact is that the lavish-giving oil men are mostly no longer in the land of the living. The new oil men are management men on salaries. Moreover segments of the domestic oil industry in June, 1960, are operating under near - depression conditions.

Labor again will be the principal source of Democratic funds. In the 1958 Congressional election labor groups reported expenditures of $1,800,000 as compared with $1,700,000 reported by Democratic groups. Labor also spent large sums for "education" and it is difficult to tell where "education" leaves off and "politics" begin. In reality labor's principal role is in mobilizing men and women to bring out the vote.

AID TO CHILE

Church Support For Drive Given

Representatives of Twin City churches yesterday pledged support of a Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chilean disaster relief program.

In a special relief committee meeting at Red Cross headquarters in Monroe, church leaders agreed to seek monetary contributions from their respective congregations in an effort to raise funds for lightning problems arising as a result of recent South American disasters.

On Saturday, May 21, a series of earthquakes, followed by tidal waves swashed not only Chile but also California, Japan, Australia, Hawaii, Alaska, British Columbia, and several islands in the South Pacific, creating what some observers have called "the greater disaster in modern history."

Since that date, more than 100 quakes have occurred bringing additional destruction, injuries and deaths. Over 5,000 have died, and estimated millions are presently homeless.

On May 27, President Eisenhower requested that the National American Red Cross serve as overall co-ordinator of all volunteer assistance, thus creating a great need for increased co-operation and co-ordination on the parts of local chapters throughout the country.

In an earlier letter to churches of the Twin Cities, Derwood Cann, Jr., acting secretary of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chapter, requested the aid of church groups in helping fund raising efforts in the Ouachita Parish area.

Church representatives who voiced approval of the Cross plan yesterday and the organizations they officially represented included: Rev. Carney Burcham, president of the Monroe Ministerial Association; Father Jordan, the Catholic Relief Fund; and Joe Marx, congregation B'nai Israel.

According to Cann, the collection day in Twin City churches is slated for June 19. He commented, however, that this date might vary in different churches.

City Courts

MONROE

A light session of Monroe city court yesterday saw a Monroe Negro man fined $50 plus 180 compulsory days in the city jail when convicted of possessing an illegal weapon.

John Anthony, 68, 1719 South 9th St., was arrested by Monroe officers last week and convicted yesterday for the weapon charge. He is scheduled to begin serving his sentence immediately.

Charges against four persons were discharged. They were: Luther Gray Williams, 47, 212 Adams St., Monroe, charged with simple battery; E. A. Thomas, 22, Negro female, 613 Wilson St., Monroe, arrested for theft; John Harris, 37, Negro, 1200 Pine St., Monroe, illegal weapon; Roosevelt Bosley, 22, Negro, 119 South 23rd St., Monroe, for simple battery.

Of the 17 cases tried, only one resulted in a conviction, while nine forfeited bonds, and seven were not pressed.

Minor cases in which bonds were forfeited included, one for reckless driving, one disturbing the peace, three for speeding, one for public drunkenness, a red light, three for speeding and one other minor traffic violation.

WEST MONROE

B. E. McAdams, 55-year-old Farmerville man, was convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages in West Monroe City court action yesterday.

McAdams was fined $205.50 and cost of court or 90 days in jail or the offense.

Eubie Lynn Whitten, 17 of 219 Circle Drive, West Monroe received a 90 day suspended sentence when found guilty on their charges.

Whitten was convicted on charges that he took a tape recorder from the West Monroe High School.

Of the 11 cases, three resulted in convictions and eight bonds were forfeited. The other conviction was for reckless driving, while bonds were forfeited in the following minor cases.

Two for disturbing the peace, four for running red lights, one for speeding and a stop sign.

TO PICKET CONVENTIONS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mass picket marches will be staged at the Democratic and Republican presidential conventions in support of a strong civil rights platform, according to two prominent Negro leaders.

Plans for picketing were announced by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. They said all the presidential hopefuls had so far failed to come out with a civil rights statement acceptable to Negroes.

Nixon, Rockefeller Smile Cordially

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller put aside their political differences Friday long enough for a smiling, handshaking get-together at a British trade exhibit.

"Hi ya, feller," one observer quoted Rockefeller as saying at his first meeting with Nixon since they exchanged verbal jabs over the course of the Republican party.

They even joined harmoniously in singing "Happy Birthday to You" to Prince Philip, who officially opened the exhibition on his 30th birthday.

They made good-natured references to their political rift in their speeches in the opening ceremonies. Then they strolled amiably together on a 90-minute tour of the exhibits with Philip.

The close harmony came at the last stop of the tour—an exhibit fitted out as the Victorian lounge of the Red Lion Inn.

Hobbie Jean Morton, known as the red-haired Queen of the Barmaids, poured beer for a birthday toast to Philip.

"To sort of break the ice, I started to sing 'Happy Birthday, Dear Duke,' and everybody joined in right away," said Hobbie Jean, a buxom Cockney who has been pouring for 40 years.

Nixon and Rockefeller met for the first time since last fall in an anteroom of the Coliseum, home of the exhibit.

The vice president had arrived first at the glass-paneled, curtain-draped anteroom, after driving from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel with Prince Philip in his Rolls-Royce gray convertible.

Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller arrived a short time later.

The public, newsmen and photographers were banned from the anteroom, which was reserved for about 40 specially invited guests.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said later that as he recalled it, Nixon said, "It's good to see you, Nelson," and that Rockefeller replied, "It's good to see you again."

After a brief chat in which Prince Philip joined, Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller proceeded to the dias on the main floor of the Coliseum for the opening ceremonies.

Nixon, representing President Eisenhower, arrived at the dias a short time later side by side with Prince Philip.

Philip and Lord Rootes, head of the exhibition, sat between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, in welcoming the exhibit guests on behalf of the state, departed from his formal remarks with the comment that he would like to touch briefly on "the local political scene."

He said that the last time Nixon and he had been together was last fall at the St. Lawrence Seaway opening, and that Prince Philip also had been present on that occasion.

Turning to Nixon, he said: "And now we're together again."

Then, turning to Philip, he said: "So, we're grateful to you."

Wheat Crop To Be Larger Than In 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department yesterday estimated this year's wheat crop at 1,271,310,000 bushels, an eighth larger than last year's crop.

Such a crop would add more than 200 million bushels to a record surplus on hand, mostly held by the government under the farm price support program.

In a June crop report, the department said corn and soybean planting lagged well behind usual in the North Central area as rain continued to hamper field work.

Cool weather in early May and light rainfall slowed crop growth in most of the South.

The department said fruit production is expected to fall below last year.

Starlet Moves For Divorce

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP)—Jean Seberg, 21, who stepped out of a Midwest high school into movie stardom, moved Friday to end her marriage of less than two years.

The actress filed suit in Marshall County District Court for a divorce from Francois Moreuil, 25, French lawyer and movie director. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment.

Miss Seberg was not in court when the petition was filed. She is in Paris, where she is making a film entitled "Recreation" directed by Moreuil.

In a statement issued through her attorney here, Miss Seberg said she would carry out her commitment to complete the film her husband is directing.

"I do this," she said, "because despite our personal problems, I still believe in his — Moreuil's — talent and ambitions."

Miss Seberg and Moreuil were married here Sept. 5, 1958, in the small church she attended as a child and where she once taught Sunday school.

They have since lived most of the time in France, where they met on the Riviera in 1957 while she was filming "Donjour Tristesse."

Miss Seberg said in filing her divorce petition that she and her husband had "mutually discovered that our backgrounds, our upbringing, our ways of life and many of our interests are incompatible."

"We have mutually decided," she added, "that it is best that we part. There is no bitterness involved—only sincere regret."

As a high school girl here, Miss Seberg was chosen by movie producer Otto Preminger, after a worldwide talent hunt in 1956, to play Joan of Arc in his movie, "Saint Joan."

WITH BENEFIT PERFORMANCE Broadway Blackout Will End Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Broadway Theater blackout will end Sunday with a benefit performance of "The Best Man," it was announced Friday.

Actors and producers Thursday night approved a contract agreement that had been reached earlier in the day by negotiators for Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters.

"The Best Man" previously had been scheduled for an actors' fund benefit Sunday, a day the theaters normally are closed. Actors are not paid for their performances and most of the tickets are bought by actors.

Producers said that 19 of the 22 Broadway shows closed in the first Broadway blackout in 41 years would be reopened Monday night.

Meanwhile, producers and actors joined in a campaign to prevent a rise in Broadway theater prices after settlement of the contract dispute.

Both sought to end the city's 5 per cent theater ticket tax and use the revenue to provide for a two-million dollar pension gained by Actors Equity in negotiations with the League of New York Theaters.

Substantial wage increases were provided in the new pact as well as the pension fund, which had been the key issue holding up a settlement. Details of the fund, and other provisions of the contract were not disclosed.

Three shows were closed permanently as a result of the dispute—"Finian's Rainbow," "The Andersonville Trial," and "Duel Angels."

Boat Accident Takes 3 Lives In Louisiana

THIBODAUX, La. (AP)—A boating accident on Bayou Lafourche here Friday drowned two men and a little girl.

They were J. E. Richard of Thibodaux; his 6-year-old daughter, Janice; and Richard's brother-in-law, June Trahan of Port Arthur, Tex.

Three other children were in the boat. Two were rescued and the third swam to shore.

It was believed the boat ran into a barge at the dock. The men who rescued the two children were working on the barge.

Child Taken To Area Of Murder Spot

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—Four-year-old Mel Hayes Jr. told officers Friday the gun used to kill his mother was thrown into a dry creek bed a short distance from where her body was found May 23.

The child was taken to a recreation area near Tucumcari where the bullet-riddled body of Mrs. Ruby Hayes, 41, Marrero, La., was discovered by a group of people on an outing.

Mel, found abandoned in El Paso, Tex., was brought to Tucumcari by an FBI officer and a representative of the Texas Welfare Department.

Quay County Sheriff Newell Ramsey said Mel insists a man named "Ronnie" shot his mother and tossed the pistol into the ditch.

Recent rains have partially filled the creek bed, but officers started draining it at the point where Mel said the pistol should be.

The boy was returned to El Paso. A hearing has been set there for June 24 to determine where he will be placed. His father, who was estranged from Mrs. Hayes, is in Tucumcari aiding in the investigation.

Ramsey quoted the boy as saying he, Mrs. Hayes and "Ronnie" drove to the park outside Tucumcari. He said his mother was shot during the daytime but where it happened was not known.

Mrs. Hayes and Mel Jr. left Louisiana last month on route to Amarillo, Tex., to visit relatives.

Church Support For Drive Given

Representatives of Twin City churches yesterday pledged support of a Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chilean disaster relief program.

In a special relief committee meeting at Red Cross headquarters in Monroe, church leaders agreed to seek monetary contributions from their respective congregations in an effort to raise funds for lightning problems arising as a result of recent South American disasters.

On Saturday, May 21, a series of earthquakes, followed by tidal waves smashed not only Chile but also California, Japan, Australia, Hawaii, Alaska, British Columbia, and several islands in the South Pacific, creating what some observers have called "the greater disaster in modern history."

Since that date, more than 100 quakes have occurred bringing additional destruction, injuries and deaths. Over 5,000 have died, and estimated millions are presently homeless.

On May 27, President Eisenhower requested that the National American Red Cross serve as overall co-ordinator of all volunteer assistance, thusly creating a great need for increased co-operation and co-ordination on the parts of local chapters throughout the country.

In an earlier letter to churches of the Twin Cities, Derwood Cann, Jr., acting secretary of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chapter, requested the aid of church groups in helping fund raising efforts in the Ouachita Parish area.

Church representatives who voiced approval of the Cross plan yesterday and the organizations they officially represented included: Rev. Carney Burcham, president of the Monroe Ministerial Association; Father Jordan, the Catholic Relief Fund; and Joe Marx, congregation B'nai Israel.

According to Cann, the collection day in Twin City churches is slated for June 19.

He commented, however, that this date might vary in different churches.

MONROE

A light session of Monroe city court yesterday saw a Monroe Negro man fined $50 plus 180 compulsory days in the city jail when convicted of possessing an illegal weapon.

John Anthony, 63, 1719 South 9th St., was arrested by Monroe officers last week and convicted yesterday for the weapon's charge. He is scheduled to begin serving his sentence immediately.

Charges against four persons were discharged. They were, Luther Gray Williams, 47, 212 Adams St., Monroe, charged with simple battery; Eudor A. Thomas, 22, Negro female, 613 Wilson St., Monroe, arrested for theft; John Harris, 37, Negro, 1200 Pine St., Monroe, illegal weapon; Roosevelt Bosley, 22, Negro, 119 South 23rd St., Monroe, for simple battery.

Of the 17 cases tried, only one resulted in a conviction, while nine forfeited bonds, and seven were nolle prossed.

Minor cases in which bonds were forfeited included, one for reckless driving, one disturbing the peace, three for speeding, one for public drunkenness, a red light, three for speeding and one other minor traffic violation.

WEST MONROE

R. E. McAdams, 55-year-old Farmerville man was convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages in West Monroe City court action yesterday.

McAdams was fined $305.50 and cost of court or 90 days in jail for the offense.

Rubin Lynn Whitten, 17 of 219 Circle Drive, West Monroe received a 90 day suspended sentence when found guilty on theft charges.

Whitten was convicted on charges that he took a tape recorder from the West Monroe High School.

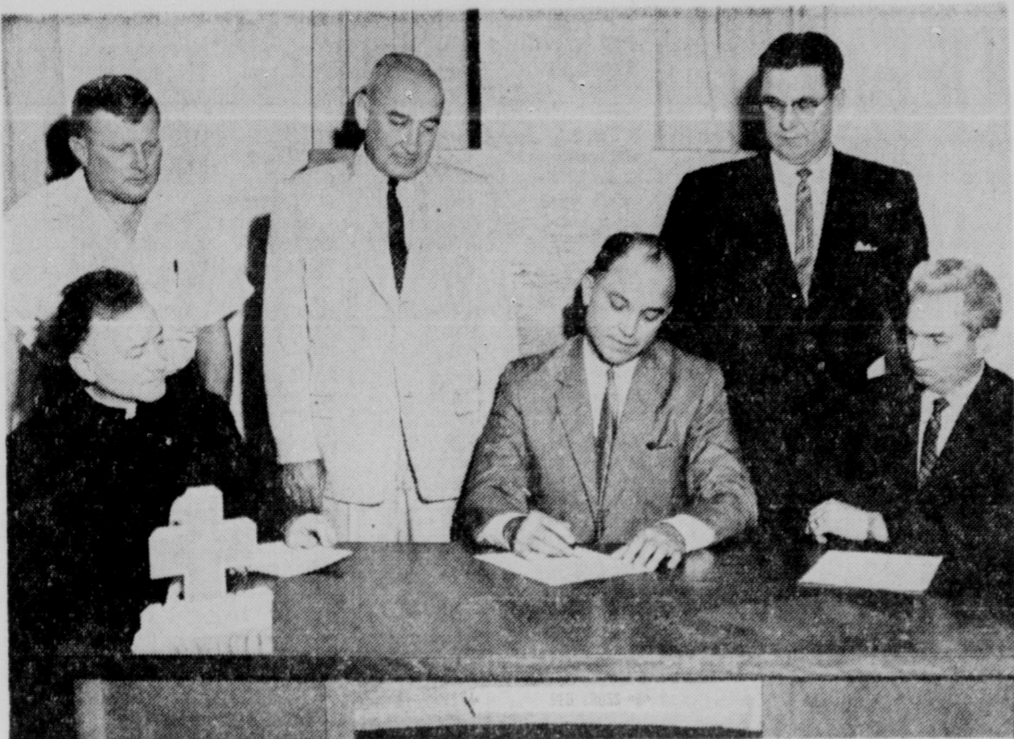

Of the 11 cases, three resulted in convictions and eight bonds were forfeited. The other conviction was for reckless driving, while bonds were forfeited in the following minor cases.

Two for disturbing the peace, four for running red lights, one for speeding and a stop sign.

TO PICKET CONVENTIONS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mass picket marches will be staged at the Democratic and Republican presidential conventions in support of a strong civil rights platform, according to two prominent Negro leaders.

Plans for picketing were announced by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. They said all the presidential hopefuls had so far failed to come out with a civil rights statement acceptable to Negroes.

AT BRITISH EXHIBIT

Nixon, Rockefeller Smile Cordially

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller put aside their political differences Friday long enough for a smiling, hand-shaking get-together at a British trade exhibit.

"Hi ya, feller," one observer quoted Rockefeller as saying at his first meeting with Nixon since they exchanged verbal jabs over the course of the Republican party.

They even joined harmoniously in singing "Happy Birthday to You" to Prince Philip, who officially opened the exhibition on his 39th birthday.

They made good-natured references to their political rift in their speeches in the opening ceremonies. Then they strolled amiably together on a 90-minute tour of the exhibits with Philip.

The close harmony came at the last stop of the tour—an exhibit fitted out as the Victorian lounge of the Red Lion Inn.

Hobbes Jean Morton, known as the red-haired Queen of the Barmaids, poured beer for a birthday toast to Philip.

"To sort of break the ice, I started to sing 'Happy Birthday, Dear Duke,' and everybody joined in right away," said Hobbes Jean, a buxom Cockney who has been pouring for 40 years.

Nixon and Rockefeller met for the first time since last fall in an anteroom of the Coliseum, home of the exhibit.

The vice president had arrived first at the glass-paneled, curtained anteroom, after driving from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel with Prince Philip in his Rolls-Royce gray convertible.

Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller arrived a short time later.

The public, newsmen and photographers were banned from the anteroom, which was reserved for about 40 specially invited guests.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said later that as he recalled it, Nixon said, "It's good to see you, Nelson," and that Rockefeller replied, "It's good to see you again."

After a brief chat in which Prince Philip joined, Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller proceeded to the dias on the main floor of the Coliseum for the opening ceremonies.

Nixon, representing President Eisenhower, arrived at the dais a short time later side by side with Prince Philip.

Philip and Lord Rootes, head of the exhibition, sat between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, in welcoming the exhibit guests on behalf of the state, departed from his formal remarks with the comment that he would like to touch briefly on "the local political scene."

He said that the last time Nixon and he had been together was last fall at the St. Lawrence Seaway opening, and that Prince Philip also had been present on that occasion.

Turning to Nixon, he said: "And now we're together again."

Then, turning to Philip, he said: "So, we're grateful to you."

Turning to Rockefeller, he said: "It's good to see you again."

To Be Larger Than In 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department yesterday estimated this year's wheat crop at 1,271,310,000 bushels, an eighth larger than last year's crop.

Such a crop would add more than 200 million bushels to a record surplus on hand, mostly held by the government under the farm price support program.

In a June crop report, the department said corn and soybean planting lagged well behind usual in the North Central area as rain continued to hamper field work.

Cool weather in early May and light rainfall slowed crop growth in most of the South.

The department said fruit production is expected to fall below last year.

Starlet Moves For Divorce

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP)—Jean Seberg, 21, who stepped out of a Midwest high school into movie stardom, moved Friday to end her marriage of less than two years.

The actress filed suit in Marshall County District Court for a divorce from Francois Moreuil, 26, French lawyer and movie director. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment.

Miss Seberg was not in court when the petition was filed. She is in Paris, where she is making a film entitled "Recreation" directed by Moreuil.

In a statement issued through her attorney here, Miss Seberg said she would carry out her commitment to complete the film her husband is directing.

"I do this," she said, "because despite our personal problems, I still believe in his — Moreuil's — talent and ambitions."

Miss Seberg and Moreuil were married here Sept. 5, 1958, in the small church she attended as a child and where she once taught Sunday school.

They have since lived most of the time in France, where they met on the Riviera in 1957 while she was filming "Bonjour Tristesse."

Miss Seberg said in filing her divorce petition that she and her husband had "mutually discovered that our backgrounds, our upbringing, our ways of life and many of our interests are incompatible."

"We have mutually decided," she added, "that it is best that we part. There is no bitterness involved—only sincere regret."

As a high school girl here, Miss Seberg was chosen by movie producer Otto Preminger, after a worldwide talent hunt in 1956, to play Joan of Arc in his movie, "Saint Joan."

WITH BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

Broadway Blackout Will End Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Broadway Theater blackout will end Sunday with a benefit performance of "The Best Man," it was announced Friday.

Actors and producers Thursday night approved a contract agreement that had been reached earlier in the day by negotiators for Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters.

"The Best Man" previously had been scheduled for an actors' fund benefit Sunday, a day the theaters normally are closed. Actors are not paid for their performances and most of the tickets are bought by actors.

Producers said that 19 of the 22 Broadway shows closed in the first Broadway blackout in 41 years would be reopened Monday night.

Meanwhile, producers and actors joined in a campaign to prevent a rise in Broadway theater prices after settlement of the contract dispute.

Both sought to end the city's 5 per cent theater ticket tax and use the revenue to provide for a two-million dollar pension gained by Actors Equity in negotiations with the League of New York Theaters.

Substantial wage increases were provided in the new pact as well as the pension fund, which had been the key issue holding up a settlement. Details of the fund and other provisions of the contract were not disclosed.

Three shows were closed permanently as a result of the dispute—"Finian's Rainbow," "The Andersonville Trial," and "Duel Angels."

Boat Accident Takes 3 Lives In Louisiana

THIBODAUX, La. (AP)—A boating accident on Bayou Lafourche here Friday drowned two men and a little girl.

They were J. E. Richard of Thibodaux; his 6-year-old daughter, Janice; and Richard's brother-in-law, June Trahan of Port Arthur, Tex.

Three other children were in the boat. Two were rescued and the third swam to shore.

It was believed their boat ran into a barge at the dock. The men who rescued the two children were working on the barge.

Sterling Silver Gift Too Personal For The Casual

By HARRY JUSTER

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I am 17 and am friendly with a boy who's graduating this June. I have my eye on a pair of sterling silver cuff links and tie clip that I would love to have monogrammed as a graduation gift. My mother thinks this is much too personal and expensive for what she calls a casual friendship. What do you think?

High School Junior

I agree. There's nothing casual about a monogrammed sterling silver cuff links and tie clip. Take a look at one of the many unusual novelty styles or smart metal and stone combinations. They're much less costly, and I suspect would make as big a hit with a high school graduate.

best friends won't tell you" characters, the way everybody kept clear of me. Actually nobody had to tell me the reason. The suit had a musty odor, evidently much worse than I realized. Tell me, are there any products on the market to remove this odor? L.J.

Thanks for the compliment, but who can influence any woman once her mind is made up? Particularly when I happen to agree with her. If you like something all the way up (and down) your sleeve, go ahead. You're not defying any rule of good dress. P. S. Short sleeves are much more comfortable in hot weather.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My husband is 27 years old. He has blond hair and fair skin. I would like to buy him a summer suit. Anything along the olive or avocado line pleases me. Everything he owns is brown, beige or blue. Do you think he can wear these new colors? Mrs. R. L.

Olive is fine. Avocado? Best to eat. The deeper olive touch of blue, brown or gray, are rich and will complement his complexion. Avocado green is smart in slacks, sportshirts or other accessories, but too strong a green in a suit for him.

TIP FOR THE DAY
Paging Dr. Freud

Have you a few complexes? Clothes are no cure-all, but regardless of what's going on inside, it's surprising how the right clothes can give an air of poise, assurance and well-being. Look around you and see if this isn't the case, even though Dr. Freud probably would not have agreed.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The Associated Press dispatch describing the arrival of former President of Korea Syngman Rhee in Hawaii—"The Rhee brought six suitcases in their chartered four-engine plane. ## Typhoon Mary Heads Across East China Sea

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Typhoon Mary, leaving death and destruction in its wake, veered from the mainland and headed out across the East China Sea aimed at Okinawa Friday night.

Military personnel in temporary barracks were evacuated to safe areas and planes were secured against winds of 65 miles per hour. All personnel were restricted to base.

Reports from Taipei said dozens of fishing boats were wrecked when the typhoon battered the Chinese Nationalist Matsu Islands, at the northern end of Formosa Strait. Three persons were reported injured.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the islands were lashed by torrential downpours. Seas were reported heavy.

Fifty-four survivors of the freighter Sheng Lee, which sank during the typhoon Thursday, reached Hong Kong Friday aboard the British freighter Torquay. One Chinese crewman drowned and five were injured after the 3,370-ton freighter, loaded with iron ore, ran aground 170 miles southeast of Hong Kong. The men were rescued by seven helicopters from the U.S. aircraft carrier Yorktown and flown to the Torquay.

Typhoon Mary roared head on through Hong Kong early Thursday, leaving at least 18,000 Chinese homeless. A spokesman at the British crown colony said 30 bodies had been recovered but at least 24 more were still missing in Hong Kong's worst tropical storm in 23 years. Most of the casualties were refugees from Communist China.

Some Americans contemplating vacations in the Pacific have determined to skip Hawaii after hearing of their friends' humiliating experiences in the once-romantic land of the lei. And Mr. and Mrs. Rhee's luggage, if opened, might have proved far more interesting than anything found on the innocent tourists who were asked to take their clothes off. Heaven knows why.

Friends of Desi Arnaz are worried about his health. He doesn't seem at all fit lately — and he's greatly overweight, although he doesn't eat much. Get ready for the next "payola" investigation — in the sports field Joe Reader, who once owned a chain of French restaurants, including the original Lucky Pierre's — an instant hit when it opened — now falls as a waiter in Jilly's, a W. 32nd St. bar.

Tailor Bankhead's chums report she's having trouble with her hearing. "Guaranteed: she'll never have trouble with her hearing!" It's bad news for Marge Chandler, ex-wife of actor Jeff, who was expected to become the bride of Steven Stanford, a California dress manufacturer. Instead, Mr. Stanford is scheduled to walk down the aisle soon with Betty Jane Skelly, of New Orleans, whom he met just a month or so ago.

Frank Sinatra was reported as "giving up" his "New York hideaway" apartment. Probably that's because it wasn't much of a hideaway — everyone knew it was a pad at 40 Central Park S. The new Sinatra flat in Gotham is at 25 W. 54th St. Debbie Reynolds' steady squire is George Bennett, a Zeckendorf employee. Quiz question: when it isn't safe to stroll in Central Park after dark, why are so many New York policemen assigned to prevent mayhem — or murder — or something — every time there's wrestling at Madison Square Garden? Madison Square Garden is a private enterprise, isn't it?

Paul Gregory is slated to produce a Nat King Cole show titled "Wild Is Love" on Broadway next winter — the musical featuring "a story thread" and featuring original compositions by Dotty Wayne and Ray Rusch. Fidel Castro has just made a secret deal with Argentina's Socialist leaders. . . . Vic Damone's romance in the Windy City is a female singer, Pat Morrissey.

Have a funny. The big tad in Miami at the moment is "limbo dancing," imported from the Caribbean. Dancers have to write under a pole, which is lowered gradually while the participants try to keep from touching their chests or hands on the floor. Experts can wiggle under poles held less than a foot from the ground.

Francoise "Bonjour Tristesse" Sagan's divorce case against wealthy publisher Guy Schoeller comes up in Paris June 15. "West Side Story" will play some of the Summer theatres, but none of the barn producers will be permitted to advertise in New York newspapers. . . . One of the newer jazz singers should uphold all the traditions of show business. Her name is Carrie Aha.

It's hard to see how the Democrats can lose the election in 1960. They've got Lauren Bacall rooting for Adlai Stevenson and Frank Sinatra on Jack Kennedy's side. No. I don't take any credit for Joe Louis' decision to quit as Fidel Castro's public relations man. I know there was a great deal of public sentiment against his move, but I don't believe Joe makes any of his decisions. I think they're all made for him.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made as time permits when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HERPES ZOSTER, OR SHINGLES

There are more remedies for shingles than there are fleas on dogs. The corticosteroids such as cortisone and ACTH are the current favorites. Best results are obtained when they are used early and in full dosage. Older remedies include salicylates, X-ray, iodides, antibiotics, Protopar, as well as cantharide spray, and the antihistamines.

Additional suggestions come from friends who have had shingles; the majority are lotions and salves to help dry up the eruption. Anything containing alcohol, menthol, or camphor will prove soothing. Cure is more difficult to achieve, however, because the infection is internal.

Herpes zoster is caused by a virus that invades a nerve or nerve root. Pain is not easy to control when nerve tissue is inflamed. Neuralgia becomes a real problem when it persists long after outward manifestations of the disease disappear. Occasionally it is so severe, the nerve must be cut or a more extensive operation has to be done.

There is a definite link between shingles and chicken pox. Most zoster victims have had chicken pox and apparently are immune to its causative virus. But when exposed to chickenpox, they may get shingles. Occasionally, the opposite is true in that children come down with chickenpox when exposed to an adult with shingles.

Most shingles sufferers tell the same story. There is pain over the involved nerve one to seven days before the typical eruption appears. During this period, the individual and the physician may be at a loss as to the cause. Involvement of a nerve in the chest wall may resemble ordinary neuritis or pleurisy.

The picture clears as soon as the typical water blisters arise along the course of the nerve. When the blisters break, the contents ooze out and crusts form as the material dries. The eruption usually clears within two to four weeks.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STOMACH FLU

B.C.G. writes: What is the treatment of stomach flu?

REPLY

Go to bed and call your physician if the infection is severe. Some victims need belladonna, paregoric, or kaolin products to stop diarrhea, cramps, and vomiting. Tea, toast, and ice chips are well tolerated until the symptoms subside. Others improve with the usual flu remedies.

COFFEE NERVES

L. M. writes: Why does coffee make some people nervous whereas others are not bothered by it?

REPLY

Some people are more sensitive to caffeine than others.

FINGER BUMPS

J.G.H. writes: Are small bumps on a woman's finger due to an acid condition?

REPLY

No. Arthritis is a better possibility, especially if these bumps are on the joints.

NAIL FUNGUS

H.G. writes: Is fungal infection of the nail treated by surgery?

REPLY

No. Fungal infections are best treated with salves or one of the newer anti-ringing tablets.

CONTACTS FOR NEARSIGHTEDNESS

M. L. writes: Does the wearing of contact lenses halt further progression of nearsightedness?

REPLY

No. Glasses never halt eye conditions such as myopia that tend to progress with age; for this reason the prescription must be changed periodically to see better.

Navy Balloon Drifts Across Pacific Ocean

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A giant Navy balloon drifting more than a ton of instruments drifted slowly westward across the Pacific Friday.

Navy radar installation on San Nicolas Island and at Point Arguello, Calif., were tracking its course, but that's all the Navy plans to do at the moment. Four jet fighters tried to shoot it down Thursday and one of them sent 30 rounds of 20 mm. shells through its thin plastic skin without avail.

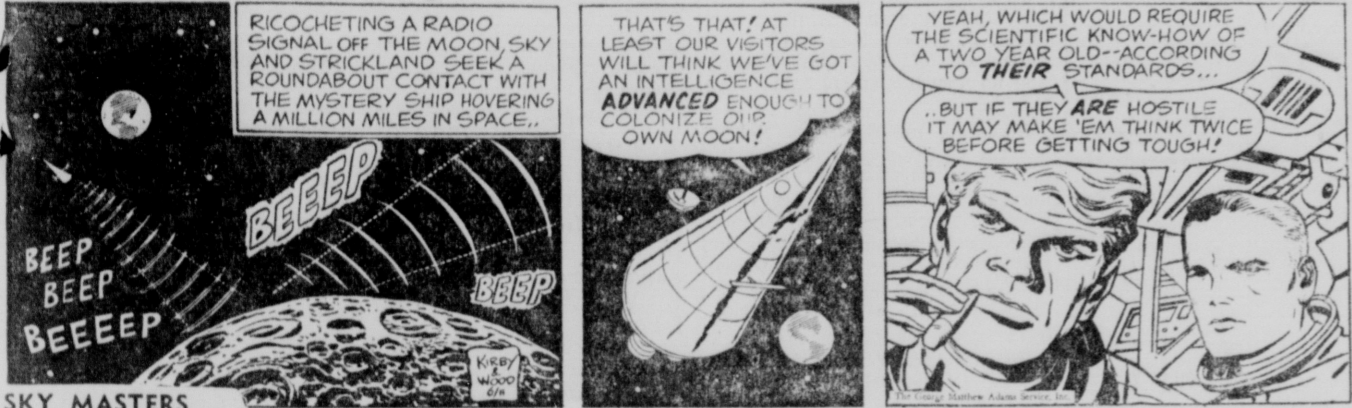

The holes apparently are too small to let enough helium escape. The 40-story-high balloon was still more than 65,000 feet high. Its position was 240 miles due west of San Nicolas.

Officials hesitate to try to shoot it down again for fear of damaging the 2,500 pounds of instruments carried in the balloon's gondola. The instruments have sampled cosmic rays in the upper atmosphere since the balloon was launched at Brunswick, Ga., Sunday.

CLOTHES MAKE YOUR MAN

Sterling Silver Gift Too Personal For The Casual

By HARRY JUSTER
DEAR MR. JUSTER: I am 17 and am friendly with a boy who's graduating this June. I have my eye on a pair of sterling silver cuff links and tie clip that I would love to have monogrammed as a graduation gift. My mother thinks this is much too personal and expensive for what she calls a casual friendship. What do you think?

High School Junior
I agree. There's nothing casual about a monogrammed sterling silver cuff links and tie bar set. Take a look at one of the many unusual novelty styles or smart metal and stone combinations. They're much less costly, and I suspect would make as big a hit with a high school graduate.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I showed up for work in a summer suit that had been cleaned and stored in my closet since last year. I felt like one of those "even your best friends won't tell you" characters, the way everybody kept clear of me. Actually nobody had to tell me the reason. The suit had a musty odor, evidently much worse than I realized. Tell me, are there any products on the market to remove this odor? L.J.

Try these two — air and sunshine. They won't cost you a cent. Give your stored clothes a day's outing with these two wonders of nature before you start wearing them and nobody will give you the "stand off" treatment.

To Al: Sometimes Ivy can be poison. One of the times is when you are 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 160 pounds.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: You seem to have some influence with the women so would you please say something about a man's right to wear what he wants. My wife has made up her mind that I should change to short-sleeve shirts for the summer. I LIKE long sleeves and wear them the year 'round. M.B.

Thanks for the compliment, but who can influence any woman once her mind is made up? Particularly when I happen to agree with her. If you like something all the way up (and down) your sleeve, go ahead. You're not defying any rule of good dress. P. S. Short sleeves are much more comfortable in hot weather.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My husband is 27 years old. He has blond hair and fair skin. I would like to buy him a summer suit. Anything along the olive or avocado line pleases me. Everything he owns is brown, beige or blue. Do you think he can wear these new colors? Mrs. R. L.

Olive is fine. Avocado? Best to eat. The deeper olive touch of blue, brown or gray, are rich and will complement his complexion. Avocado green is smart in slacks, sportshirts or other accessories, but too strong a green in a suit for him.

TIP FOR THE DAY
Paging Dr. Freud

Have you a few complexes? Clothes are no cure-all, but regardless of what's going on inside, it's surprising how the right clothes can give an air of poise, assurance and well-being. Look around you and see if this isn't the case, even though Dr. Freud probably would not have agreed.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The Associated Press dispatch describing the arrival of former President of Korea Syngman Rhee in Hawaii—"The Rhees brought six suitcases in their chartered four-engine plane. They cleared customs in 20 minutes. Their luggage was not opened"—made fascinating reading for the many United States citizens who not only have had their suitcases opened but have been forced to strip to the skin by the tough Honolulu customs inspectors.

Some Americans contemplating vacations in the Pacific have determined to skip Hawaii after hearing of their trends humiliating experiences in the once-romantic land of the lei. And Mr. and Mrs. Rhee's luggage, if opened, might have proved far more interesting than anything found on the innocent tourists who were asked to take their clothes off. Heaven knows why.

Friends of Desi Arnaz are worried about his health. He doesn't seem at all fit lately — and he's greatly overweight, although he doesn't eat much. Get ready for the next "payola" investigation — in the sports field. Joe Reader, who once owned a chain of French restaurants, including the original Lucky Pierre's — an instant hit when it opened—now toils as a waiter in Jilly's, a W. 32nd St. bar.

Tallulah Bankhead's chums report she's having trouble with her hearing. (Guaranteed: she'll never have trouble with her talking!) It's bad news for Marge Chandler, ex-wife of actor Jeff, who was expected to become the bride of Steven Stanford, a California dress manufacturer. Instead, Mr. Stanford is scheduled to waltz down the aisle with Betty Jane Skelly, of New Orleans, whom he met just a month or so ago.

Frank Sinatra was reported as "giving up" his "New York hideaway" apartment. Probably that's because it wasn't much of a hideaway — everyone knew it was a pad at 40 Central Park S. The new Sinatra flat in Gotham is at 25 W. 54th St. Debbie Reynolds' steady squire is George Bennett, a Zeckendorf employee. Quiz question: when it isn't safe to stroll in Central Park after dark, why are so many New York policemen assigned to prevent mayhem — or murder, or something — every time there's wrestling at Madison Square Garden? Madison Square Garden is a private enterprise, isn't it?

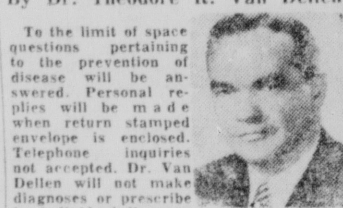

Paul Gregory is slated to produce a Nat King Cole show titled "Wild Is Love" on Broadway next winter — the musical featuring "a story thread" and Nat singing original compositions by Doty Wayne and Ray Rusch. Fidel Castro has just made a secret deal with Argentina's Socialist leaders. Vic Damone's romance in the Windy City is a female singer, Pat Morrissey.

Have a funny. The big fad in Miami at the moment is "limbo dancing," imported from the Caribbean. Dancers have to writh under a pole, which is lowered gradually while the participants try to keep from touching their chests or hands on the floor. Experts can wiggle under poles held less than a foot from the ground.

Francoise "Bonjour Tristesse" Sagan's divorce case against wealthy publisher Guy Schoeller comes up in Paris June 13. "West Side Story" will play some of the Summer theatres, but none of the barn producers will be permitted to advertise it in New York newspapers. One of the newer jazz singers should uphold all the traditions of show business. Her name is Carrie Aha. It's hard to see how the Democrats can lose the election in 1960. They've got Lauren Bacall rooting for Adlai Stevenson and Frank Sinatra on Jack Kennedy's side. No, I don't take any credit for Joe Louis' decision to quit as Fidel Castro's public relations man. I know there was a great deal of public sentiment against his move, but I don't believe Joe makes any of his decisions. I think they're all made for him.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

HERPES ZOSTER, OR SHINGLES

There are more remedies for shingles than there are fleas on dogs. The corticosteroids such as cortisone and ACTH are the current favorites. Best results are obtained when they are used early and in full dosage. Older remedies include vitamin B, X-ray, iodides, antibiotics, Prothamide, an ethyl chloride spray, and the antihistaminics.

Additional suggestions come from friends who have had shingles: the majority are lotions and salves to help dry up the eruption. Anything containing alcohol, menthol, or camphor will prove soothing. Cure is more difficult to achieve, however, because the infection is internal.

Herpes zoster is caused by a virus that invades a nerve or nerve root. Pain is not easy to control when nerve tissue is inflamed. Neuralgia becomes a real problem when it persists long after outward manifestations of the disease disappear. Occasionally it is so severe the nerve must be cut or a more extensive operation has to be done.

There is a definite link between shingles and chicken pox. Most zoster victims have had chicken pox and apparently are immune to its causative virus. But when exposed to chickenpox, they may get shingles. Occasionally, the opposite is true in that children come down with chickenpox when exposed to an adult with shingles.

Most shingles sufferers tell the same story. There is pain over the involved nerve one to seven days before the typical eruption appears. During this period, the individual and the physician may be at a loss as to the cause. Involvement of a nerve in the chest wall may resemble ordinary neuritis or pleurisy.

The picture clears as soon as the typical water blisters arise along the course of the nerve. When the blisters break, the contents ooze out and crusts form as the material dries. The eruption usually clears within two to four weeks.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STOMACH FLU

B.C.G. writes: What is the treatment of stomach flu?

REPLY
Go to bed and call your physician if the infection is severe. Some victims need belladonna, paregoric, or kaolin products to stop diarrhea, cramps, and vomiting. Tea, toast, and ice chips are well tolerated until the symptoms subside. Others improve with the usual flu remedies.

COFFEE NERVES

L. M. writes: Why does coffee make some people nervous whereas others are not bothered by it?

REPLY
Some people are more sensitive to caffeine than others.

FINGER BUMPS

J.G.H. writes: Are small bumps on a woman's finger due to an acid condition?

REPLY
No. Arthritis is a better possibility, especially if these bumps are on the joints.

NAIL FUNGUS

H.G. writes: Is fungal infection of the nail treated by surgery?

REPLY
No. Fungal infections are best treated with salves or one of the newer anti-ringworm tablets.

CONTACTS FOR NEARSIGHTEDNESS

M. L. writes: Does the wearing of contact lenses halt further progression of nearsightedness?

REPLY
No. Glasses never halt eye conditions such as myopia that tend to progress with age; for this reason the prescription must be changed periodically to see better.

TO SEEK DIVORCE

LACONIA, N.H. (UPI) — Mrs. Grace Metallous Martin, author of the novel "Peyton Place," plans to seek a divorce, her husband, Thomas J. (T.J.) Martin, former radio announcer and disc jockey, said.

He said he and his wife have separated and the divorce would be by mutual consent. The couple was married in 1958 three days after she divorced her first husband, George Metallous.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Some Analysts Raise Doubts

NEW YORK (AP) — When the stock market's sharp rally ran out of steam as the week ended, some analysts raised doubts about an immediate renewal. Earlier this week, when the market was surging, there were predictions the action meant the beginning of the traditional summer advance. Joseph E. Granville commented Friday that the market had done the work of two months in six days. That much energy, he said, "borrows heavily from what might have been the start of a summer rally. That rally now is in doubt."

Granville concluded that, "All technical earmarks of rally termination were in classic evidence, classic in that the combination of technical circumstances in evidence over the past few days underscored the similarities with previous rally periods which preceded important declines."

He said the significant technical highlights included the inability of the Dow Jones rail average to better the 146.56 level on a closing basis.

B. K. Thurlow, of Winslow, Chou & Stetson, considers it a curious feature of the market that rotating strength seems more and more to coincide with rotating weakness.

This, he says, suggests that new money is not coming into the market in any quantity but that speculative funds are rushing from group to group in search of quick profit.

"This is not the stuff that major bull market advances are made on," he adds, "and seems rather to reflect a reaction from the kind of market sentiment that prevailed earlier this year."

"Most observers seem to expect a strong market continuing through Election Day. We are willing to go out on a limb and predict the recovery will hold at least through July 4 but are too cautious to try to see farther ahead."

Oil Statistics Co. points out that continued selling pressure has placed many oil stocks under 1957-58 lows and at levels of 1955.

With current dividend payments, the yields on many of the highest quality stocks are very satisfactory at five and six per cent, the analyst says.

"Earnings in 1960 should show some modest improvements so most dividend rates appear safe."

"Successful cost reduction efforts and curtailed capital expenditures may even mean some increased payouts. In terms of capital gain prospects, the heaviest liquidation is probably over and some gradual accumulation is in evidence."

Prince Philip Nearly Hit By Big Cake

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prince Philip nearly was engulfed by his red, white and blue birthday cake Friday.

The toasting cake provided a few suspenseful moments for 1,500 fascinated guests at an otherwise dignified party given by the Federation of British Industries at the Waldorf-Astoria in honor of Philip's 36th birthday.

Philip earlier had officially opened the British exhibition at the New York Coliseum.

After Philip took his seat in the Waldorf's ballroom, the lights were dimmed and two waiters entered bearing a cake on a litter. The three-tiered giant rose more than four feet from the litter.

The guests sang, "Happy birthday to you, dear Philip." The prince smiled.

The waiters had great difficulty squeezing the cake between two long dais tables in order to reach the prince, while trying to hoist the cake onto a dais, they nearly set a British flag on fire with the 39 burning candles.

Then the waiters lost their grip on the litter. The cake swayed and leaned precariously toward Prince Philip. Its angle much like that of the leaning tower of Pisa, the cake hung over the blanching prince like an impending avalanche.

Several of the honored guests rose to their feet and put their shoulders into averting a catastrophe. They and the waiters finally perched the cake on the second dais behind the prince.

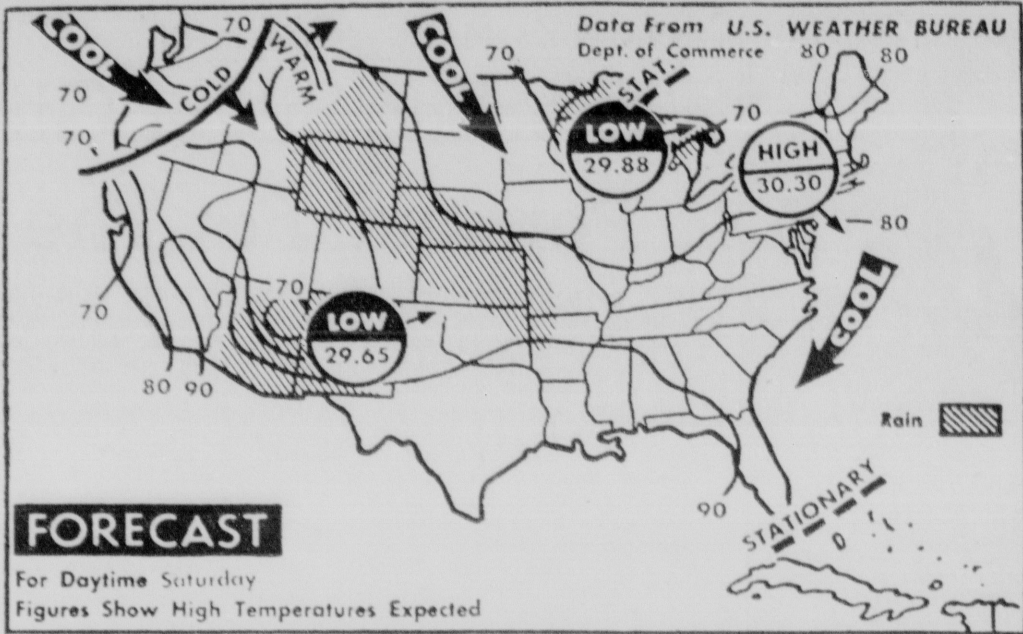

As they did, the litter gave way completely with a crash. The audience gasped. Prince Philip smiled gamely.

Jewish Leader Speaks Out On Eichmann Case

ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Joachim Prinz, president of the American Jewish Congress, said Friday Israel has a right to try Adolf Eichmann because the Nazi's crimes were directed at the Jewish people.

Dr. Prinz said the Nuremberg trials of Nazi leaders were international tribunals for crimes against all humanity. As supervisor of the extermination of six million Jews in World War II, Eichmann killed only Jews, Dr. Prinz said.

Dr. Prinz said this made trial of Eichmann by the Jewish nation legal and a "moral lesson."

STOLEN AND BURN HEATED

Escape Halted By A Real 'Hot' Car

If Willie Lee Foster, a Negro prisoner in the Lake Providence city jail, wishes for the horse and buggy days of yesteryear, it's understandable. He certainly has his gripe against the automobile industry.

Foster, a trustee at the jail, decided to head for the wide open spaces early yesterday morning. He walked out, swiped a car, and promptly wrecked it before he could get out of town.

Then, according to police, he stole a taxi cab, and headed for Monroe.

He made it to Louisville, Avenue, where the vehicle became too hot, and caught on fire. He was arrested at the car by State police and members of the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department.

He was apprehended at 6:40 a.m. yesterday and charged with five counts by Troop F of the State police.

The charges were, two counts of auto theft, reckless driving, operating a vehicle without a driver's license, resisting arrest and simple escape.

Foster was returned to Lake Providence late yesterday, after being lodged in the Ouachita Parish jail for several hours.

WHILE ON WAY TO PRISON

Youths Overpower Guard And Escape

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two gun-fighting youths overpowered a guard and escaped Friday while being taken to a Kansas prison to serve long sentences.

The Kansas Highway Patrol said the escape occurred near Walcott, Kan., a suburb of Kansas City.

The armed pair, described as dangerous, fled in a white Plymouth car, the patrol said.

The youths are Jay Lea King, 20, Olathe, Kan., and Carl R. Chase, 19, Parsons, Kan.

The Wyandotte County sheriff's office said Chase and King were being transferred from the Kansas Reformatory at Hutchinson to the state prison at Lansing.

They threatened the guard with a knife that had been made in the reformatory. The guard tried to run the car into a ditch, but the pair overpowered him, left him handcuffed to a tree and fled in his car with all his weapons.

They had been sentenced to 35 to 40 years in prison for assault with intent to kill, resisting arrest, burglary and larceny and car theft.

The night of Jan. 4 the pair stole a car in Mission, Kan., and a few hours later disarmed two Kansas City, Mo., policemen, then engaged in a running gun battle with other officers.

A posse, aided by spotter planes, surrounded the two youths the next day, Jan. 5, in southeastern Kansas near Erie. They surrendered after exchanging shots with the officers.

Chase and King were sentenced first to the Kansas Reformatory. Then Feb. 10 in District Court at Erie they were given 20-year terms for the gun fights with officers. At Ottawa, Kan., they were sentenced to 10 to 20 years for burglary and larceny. Finally, at Olathe, Kan., on April 18 they received 5- to 15-year terms for theft of a car.

Two Bodies Found Off California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — The bodies of two of seven crewmembers aboard a boat that disappeared on a secret underwater detection research mission have been found—16 miles apart, the Coast Guard reported Friday night.

One of the bodies, the first found, was badly mangled by sharks.

The 42-foot boat Marie carried a research crew from Raytheon, builders of secret underwater detection equipment for the Navy, when it failed to return to port here Tuesday night. It had left earlier that day.

The first body was tentatively identified as that of deep sea diver Paul T. Lovette, 36. The flesh had been torn from both arms and one leg.

The second body, found late Friday, was positively identified as Harold Mackie Jr., 26, from papers in his pocket that showed he was a researcher for Raytheon.

"The bodies are drifting around at a terrific rate," said the Coast Guard. The search for other members of the party, including Dr. Neil Beardsley, 67, a prominent physicist, would continue Saturday, officials said.

In addition to the bodies, air and sea searchers found life preservers, an oil slick and hatch covers from the converted landing craft.

Coast Guard officials said the debris indicated the boat, loaded with electronic gear, probably exploded. But the type of gear aboard was not known.

Negro Held In Richland Man's Injury

A 40-year-old Richland Parish man was reportedly "improved" at a Shreveport hospital yesterday after being struck on the head with a hoe by a Negro field hand Wednesday afternoon.

Earl Wells, was partially paralyzed from a blow dealt by Loretha Mayes, 29-year-old Negro woman of Dunn, who was working at the Wells farm when the incident occurred, according to the Richland Parish Sheriff's Department. Wells' farm is located about five miles south of Dunn.

Doctors at Shreveport told Richland officials that Wells had both arms paralyzed and his speech was impaired as a result of the blow.

Investigators said according to witnesses, the incident occurred about 2 p.m. Wednesday afternoon when Wells reportedly fired the Mayes woman while she was chopping cotton in his fields.

Witnesses said Wells told her she was cutting down too much of the cotton.

According to the story told, both Wells and the woman then went to the edge of the field to where his truck was parked, and an argument ensued.

As Wells was writing a check for the Mayes woman, she struck him on the head with her hoe, according to reports.

Wells then took the hoe away from her and was then taken to a doctor before being transferred to a brain specialist in Shreveport.

The Mayes woman had not been charged last yesterday, according to the Richland Sheriff's office, who said they were waiting until the condition of Wells could be determined, before pressing formal charges.

Chamber Clears Stand On Bills In Legislature

The Monroe Chamber of Commerce has made its stand clear concerning bills currently under study in the legislature which it is for and against. The Chamber is supporting five bills and opposing three.

According to Chamber of Commerce assistant manager Bobby Oden, the chamber is for the following bills:

1. House Bill 135, which appropriates a $250,000 capital outlay on the Greater Ouachita Port Commission.
2. House Bill 571, to make changes in the Workman's Compensation Law.
3. Senate Bill 248, companion to House Bill 571.
4. House Bill 853, to create cotton research facilities.
5. House Bill 66, to require that names of all state employees be listed semi-annually in the official journal publication of each parish. Introduced by Rep. Lantz Womack, it would prevent anyone from holding a secret state job.

The Chamber is opposed to:

1. House Bill 609, which would increase the maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefit from $35 to $52.
2. House Bill 611, which would force anyone employing one or more persons to make unemployment compensation payments.
3. House Bill 1282, which would require anyone owning more than 10,000 acres of land next to a highway to sell one-acre sites to anyone who wanted to buy them for homesites.

Oden said that the Senate Bill 248 is slated to go before the Senate Industrial Relations Committee Monday and anyone in favor of the bill should let their senators and representatives know now.

Oden added that the Chamber of Commerce would be glad to let people have the names of key committee members on any House or Senate group.

Vanderbilt Squabble In Stalemate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Vanderbilt University squabble over a Negro student and sit-in leader which has left its divinity school virtually without a faculty, Friday reached a stalemate expected to last through the weekend.

Both university Chancellor Harvie Branscomb and divinity school Dean, J. Robert Nelson were reported out of town until Monday and no new settlement talks were scheduled.

However, neither Dean Nelson nor the 10 divinity school faculty members who have resigned moved to accept job offers announced Thursday by the Chicago Theological Seminary. And the resignations of six medical school faculty members, reported ready for submission, did not materialize.

Vice Chancellor Bob Roy Purdy quoted Branscomb, who was in Williamsburg, Va., as saying he does not consider the failure of lengthy settlement talks Thursday as closing the door on further negotiations.

The controversy began last March when the Rev. James Lawson, a Negro and a Methodist minister, was dismissed from the divinity school for his role as a leader in sit-ins here. The university said the ouster was because of Lawson's decision to advocate civil disobedience during the demonstrations.

Lawson, who had been scheduled to graduate from Vanderbilt earlier this month, began classes last week at Boston University and is expected to receive his bachelor of divinity degree there later this summer.

The executive committee of the Vanderbilt board of trustees Thursday rejected a proposal by the resigning divinity school faculty members that called for Lawson to return to Vanderbilt to finish his schooling.

Crossett Sets Wide Summer Play Program

CROSSETT (Special) — The most comprehensive recreation program in Crossett's history will shift into high gear Monday morning, June 13, as playground programs get started on all the city's elementary school grounds.

Headed by coach Earl Burchfield, programs in volleyball, badminton, ping-pong, horse shoes, basketball and softball will be offered to both boys and girls four mornings a week.

The swimming pools are attracting the heaviest attendance in years. In spite of the Prairie Country Club pool opening, the city pool drew 1,508 paid admissions during its first week, with 349 swimmers on Saturday of last week. The colored pool admitted 523 swimmers during its first week, which was more than have attended in the past two years combined. Free swimming lessons will start in both pools Monday morning.

Free tennis lessons are being given in the park every week day from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., and art lessons in the City Park each afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Included in the summer program are a slow-pitch softball league for men and active Little League and Babe Ruth league teams.

R. P. Meridith, chairman of the recreation commission, reports that development of additional recreation facilities and an expanded program is being planned, and announcement of expansion will be made as the various facets of the program are developed.

Man, 33, Amits Booby Trap Bombing Of 3

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Willie Levey Tate, 33, has admitted the booby trap bombing of his ex-wife and two stepdaughters, Asst. Dist. Atty. Howard Butler said Friday.

The one-armed moonshiner had denied until Friday that he sent the gift box which exploded as Frances Binkley Tate unwrapped it June 2.

The blast blew off Mrs. Tate's hands and badly mangled other parts of her body. She still is in critical condition. Her two daughters by a previous marriage were less seriously injured.

J. H. Kerkeles, sheriff's chief investigator, said Tate told authorities he rigged the bomb because he was tired of hearing people ask when Frances was coming home. The couple are divorced.

"I guess I just went crazy," Kerkeles quoted Tate as saying.

Butler said the break came after a restaurant cook told sheriff's investigators that he saw Tate in a restaurant 25 miles south of Nashville at 2:30 a.m. June 2. Tate had maintained that he did not leave his home near Fayetteville until 3 a.m. the day of the bombing.

Nixon Sees Long Cold War Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Friday it may be 50 years before the cold war with Russia is resolved.

He said the conflict could be resolved by war but that he hoped not. He predicted that "it is more likely to be solved in the non-military area."

The vice president spoke before about 1,200 persons attending a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel luncheon marking the opening of a British trade exhibition at the Coliseum.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, at odds with Nixon on how the nation should meet defense and other problems, was seated at the head table along with Nixon.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, also addressed the luncheon but dealt only with Anglo-American relations.

Nixon said the free world was moving through the post-summit period with recognition that "the conflict in which we are engaged may not be resolved in two or five years — perhaps a generation or even 50 years."

"I hope it is not going to be resolved by war," he said.

The leaders of Soviet Russia, he said, have "a sense of purpose — to rule the world — and it inspires them and makes them work hard."

He said the American people sometimes are "impatient when policies we adopt in world affairs do not automatically solve problems and bring peace."

"This impatience, he said, tends to give the impression that we lack stamina, the determination to live through adversity and rise above it."

Best Air Conditioner Under The Sun

(that's where an air conditioner has got to be real good)

WHEN THE WEATHER REPORT SAYS 90°—IT'S OFTEN 115° UNDER THE SUN! FEDDERS IS ENGINEERED AND TESTED TO COOL EFFECTIVELY IN 115° HEAT

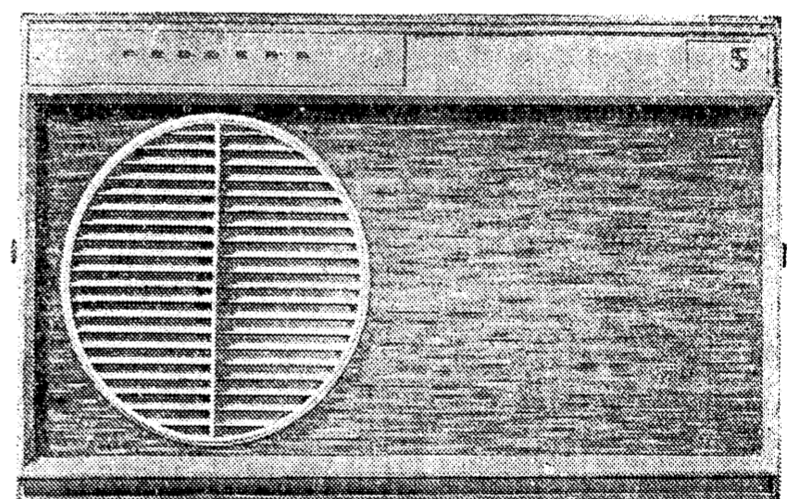

Air conditioners are tested and rated for BTU's inside a laboratory...with the temperature set at 95 degrees. Plenty warm, sure. But in the sunlight outside your window where your air conditioner will actually operate, it's likely to be 15 to 20 degrees hotter.

Many people overlook this fact when evaluating an air conditioner solely on BTU's. They forget that the Weather Bureau measures temperatures in the shade. It's likely that your own ideas about your local summer weather seriously underestimates the heat load your air conditioner will have to contend with.

That's why, over and above their big BTU ratings, Fedders Air Conditioners are engineered...tested to cool effectively at 115 degrees. That's 20 degrees hotter than the temperature at which BTU's are measured. It represents the reserve cooling power your air conditioner needs to work properly in mid-summer sunlight.

It will pay to look beyond mere BTU ratings when selecting your air conditioner. In competitive tests against air conditioners with similar BTU ratings, a Fedders Air Conditioner pulled room temperatures down faster...held them lower with the outdoor temperature at 115 degrees. Most of the other air conditioners tested failed to cool as well...or turned off altogether to avoid permanent damage from overheating.

To live happily this summer, make yours a Fedders...the sun-proof air conditioner.

SPLIT DECISION

Pender Defeats Robinson Again

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender proved himself the champion of 40-year-old Sugar Ray Robinson Friday night by successfully defending his limited version of the world middleweight boxing title on a split 15-round decision.

Shaking off the best punches that Robinson could throw in the early stages of the bout, Pender took command in the middle rounds and stood off a frantic desperation finish by the beleaguered Sugar Man.

Both judges had Pender, a 29-year-old Brookline, Mass., favorite, out front by a comfortable margin. Referee Jim McCarron cast a surprising 148-141 ballot for Robinson. Judge Jim Carrig had 149-138 for Pender and Judge Johnny Savko 147-142 for the local boy. The AP card was 144-141 in favor of Pender.

When Pender dethroned Sugar Ray Jan. 21 in the same Boston garden ring on a highly disputed split decision, there were many dissenting shouts from ringside. This time the vote for Pender was extremely popular.

Robinson's slip surely was showing. Time after time he tried to pull the trigger on his right hand lead but it usually missed fire and sputtered harmlessly over Pender's head.

In the fifth round, Robinson opened with a long right to the side of the head that shook Pender and brought a spray of water from his hair. But he couldn't follow up soon enough and let his man get away.

From the sixth round on, Pender's tactics of "push, pull and shove" paid off. He would bear Robinson more often than not with a left hook. Then he would move in close and beat a tattoo on Robinson's unprotected side with his free right hand. Time after time Referee McCarron had to warn both for rabbit punching. Robinson drew warnings to "keep them up" in the sixth round.

The victory left Pender the 160-pound champ in Massachusetts, New York and Europe. Gene Fullmer is recognized by the National Boxing Assn., which stripped Robinson of his crowd May 4, 1959 long before he lost the two-state version to Pender.

Pender came in exactly at the class limit of 160 pounds. Robinson was a pound and a half lighter at 158½ pounds.

The crowd of 8,422 which paid a gross gate of $67,656, far below expectations, rose and cheered in the final round. A desperate Robinson, who appeared to sense he needed a knockout to win, was flinging them from left field and trying to bull his man around the ring.

In the final frantic seconds, the two went through the ropes with Pender on the bottom and Robinson on top. Referee McCarron had to help Pender back through the ropes.

Asked if he planned to retire again, Robinson said in his dressing room, "I don't know yet." Speaking almost in a whisper as he stood in his ring trunks, Robinson said, "I wasn't rusty. I just didn't have what it takes to win. I tried to finish strong. But the judges made the decision. I didn't."

George Gainford, Robinson's adviser, complained about the decision and said, "Robinson won 10 rounds. That is why I wrote to Referee." Sen. Estes Refauser, whose Senate committee is investigating boxing.

Pender said Robinson's punches began losing their sting in the fifth round.

That was when I realized that his strategy was to try to knock me out early, rather than go for victory on points," he said.

The champ said he would take a month off and then try to get a match with Archie Moore for the world light heavyweight title.

"Moore is slower and should be easier to hit," he said. "There should be more money in that fight than with Gene Fullmer."

Pender got about $45,000 from this fight including $26,250 from the $150,000 paid for the television rights. Robinson got $105,000 from TV and $18,000 from the gate for a total of $123,000.

The referee who voted for Robinson said he took points away from Pender for "treacherous" hitting on the back of Robinson's striped Robinson of his crowd May 4, 1959 long before he lost the two-state version to Pender.

"Moore is slower and should be easier to hit," he said. "There should be more money in that fight than with Gene Fullmer."

Pender got about $45,000 from this fight including $26,250 from the $150,000 paid for the television rights. Robinson got $105,000 from TV and $18,000 from the gate for a total of $123,000.

The referee who voted for Robinson said he took points away from Pender for "treacherous" hitting on the back of Robinson's striped Robinson of his crowd May 4, 1959 long before he lost the two-state version to Pender.

Pender came in exactly at the class limit of 160 pounds. Robinson was a pound and a half lighter at 158½ pounds.

The crowd of 8,422 which paid a gross gate of $67,656, far below expectations, rose and cheered in the final round.

Dyes Wins; Don Styron Second At Houston Meet

Charley Tidwell Ties 100 Record

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — NCAA — Champion Charley Tidwell, who earlier this season found Texas tracks short of record size, ran 100 full meters as fast as any human ever has here Friday night in the fifth annual Meet of Champions.

Tidwell, who ran 200 meters in what would have been a record 20.2 at Abilene earlier this season only to be told the track was a few yards short of the mark, won his event here in 10.1 seconds to thoroughly squelch an outstanding dash field.

Tidwell beat Stone Johnson of Grambling College, Dave Sime of the Duke AC and Bill Woodhouse among others, with Johnson placing second and Sime third, both in 10.3.

Dave Styron finished an uncloaked fifth in the race but only about 3½ yards behind the leader. It was Styron's only short run of the night, for the brilliant Northeast Track Club youngster failed to qualify in the 200-meter preliminaries Friday afternoon.

Styron's qualifying time for the 100-meters Friday was 10.4 but he made his move too late in the longer dash and finished out of the money in 21.3.

Tidwell came back from his 100-meter performance 40 minutes later to win the 200, running a curve, in 20.8. His winning time was only two tenths of a second off the world record and beat Sime by two feet.

Tidwell was voted the meet's outstanding performer and included in this night's work was a strong anchor leg for Kansas' 400-meter relay team which caught Don Styron at the start of the stretch run and won for the Jayhawks second place behind winning Baylor.

Another Kansan, Bill Alley, the NCAA record holder for the javelin, broke his own national collegiate record Friday afternoon with a toss of 273-10½. The big fellow then came back Friday night and threw 274-9 in exhibition. His winning throw in the finals will be submitted for record.

The 400-meter hurdles saw another meet record shattered when world record holder Glenn Davis won the event in 30.2 seconds, one second over his world mark. Don Styron did not place in the event.

Still another mark was registered in the hurdles when Lee Calhoun, the defending Olympic champion, took his 110-meter specialty in 13.6. Calhoun was pressed all the way by Northeast's Don Styron who finished just a step back in 13.8. Each of the four top men in the event bettered the Olympic standard, as well as the meet record of 14.1.

Houston won the 1600-meter relay in 3:09.1 to beat Kansas which finished in 3:11.8. Northeast scratched from the event.

Northeast picked up a first place in the hop-step-jump where Jerry Dyes won with 47-5. Lud Bandaries gave the Shreveport Athletic Club a second place in the shot put with a toss of 54-8½. The event was won by Ed Nuttig of Georgia Tech with 54-10½. Perhaps the most important man in the shot put wasn't there at all. He was Bill Nider who was scheduled to compete here but did not show.

Chisox Maul Faltering Red Hose, 13 To 3

BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox jumped on faltering Boston pitching for a six-run burst in the fourth inning Friday and romped to a 13-3 rout of the down-trodden Red Sox.

The Boston loss, its seventh straight and 24 in the last 29 games, came after the Red Sox announced that Billy Jurges had been fired as manager. Jurges was relieved of his command two days ago when he was ordered by doctors to take a rest.

Right-hander Ted Hudson went all the way for Farmerville on the mound, giving up seven hits while his teammates collected only four off two Ruston pitchers, starter Charles Shuffield and loser Jerry Hood, who came on in the seventh.

Shuffield walked the first batter in the seventh, pinch-batter Patterson and Hood came on to pitch. Doc Hearn sacrificed Patterson to second and the runner went on to third on an error. C. A. Futch grounded to first and Patterson scored when the catcher dropped the throw at home.

Futch went on to third on a passed ball and Jerry Colson's sacrifice fly.

Hood was the game's leading batter with 2-3 along with Robert Puddy.

Since the Giants and Dodgers moved to California they have averaged more than 40,000 fans for 25 games in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rouse Pitches Vols Past Dubach

Collegian Jerry Rouse bested old pro Bill Bagwell in a sparkling mound duel here Friday night as the West Monroe Vols scored a 3-2 La-Ark League victory over Dubach on George Fruge's run-scoring single in the eleventh inning.

The win moved the Vols into a tie with the Hornets for third place with identical 3-4 won-loss records.

Lefty Fred Sutherland gave up only five hits and struck out 21 batters as he pitched the Monroe Sports to a 6-3 victory over the league-leading Ruston Ramblers in the league's only other contest.

The loss was the first of the season for the previously unbeaten Ramblers who had won six straight.

Bob Betz had 3-5 to lead the Monroe attack while George Bryan, John O'Connor and Southern landed chipped in with two hits apiece.

Max Lewis had 3-5 to pace the Ramblers. Ray Germany started on the mound for Ruston and took the loss. He was relieved by Eddie Hood in the seventh and Jim Penton in the eighth.

Fruge's liner to deep right centered in the bottom of the eleventh plated James Mock with the tie-breaking run off Bagwell, a long-time minor league hurler, after the Dubach pilot had relieved starter Bill Ferguson in the fifth and allowed only one unearned run.

Mock led off the inning with a walk and moved to second on T. L. Fuller's single past third. Wayne Hendricks sacrificed both runners down and the hefty Fruge belted his long drive to the fence to easily score Mock.

It was a well-deserved win for Rouse, the hard-luck junk pitcher who usually has to pitch a shutout or lose. He was probably at his best ever, striking out 11 while yielding only two walks.

He was touched for two runs in the seventh on a double by Bagwell and singles by Max Green and Jess Moore.

The game produced a total of 22 strikes - outs. In addition to Rouse's 11, Bagwell whiffed seven and Ferguson four.

Shelby Auds paced the Vols, batting attack with a double and two singles and Robert Perkins and Ferguson added a pair of singles each.

GIVES UP COLLEGE YEAR

Moreland Plans To Ink Pro Pact

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Jack Moreland, Louisiana Tech's Little All-America basketball star, said last night he planned to sign with the professional Detroit Pistons next week.

Moreland, who made the United Press International Little All-America team for the past two seasons and the all-Gulf States Conference team for the last three years, has a year of college eligibility remaining.

The 6-7 Moreland said his plans were to fly to Detroit and sign with the National Basketball Assn. team June 19. Moreland was the first draft choice of the club in the annual NBA draft this year.

Moreland set a Louisiana high school scoring record, since broken by Plainview's Harold Strother, in his prep career at Minden. He scored a total of 361 points, 20 of his team's 26 games and, in his prep career at Minden, pulled down 301 rebounds. His name has been in Louisiana history.

He attended North Carolina State for one year before transferring to Tech and was the center of a recruiting scandal that resulted in North Carolina State being placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The brilliant center led Louisiana Tech to the championship of the Gulf States Conference in his second year at the Ruston School. Hampered by injuries during his final college campaign, Moreland nevertheless led the GSC with an 18.1 scoring average. He scored a total of 361 points, 20 of his team's 26 games and, in his prep career at Minden, pulled down 301 rebounds. His name has been in Louisiana history.

SPLIT DECISION

Pender Defeats Robinson Again

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender proved himself the champion of 40-year-old Sugar Ray Robinson Friday night by successfully defending his limited version of the world middleweight boxing title on a split 15-round decision.

Shaking off the best punches that Robinson could throw in the early stages of the bout, Pender took command in the middle rounds and stood off a frantic desperation finish by the bedraggled Sugar Man.

Both judges had Pender, a 29-year-old Brookline, Mass., favorite, out front by a comfortable margin. Referee Jim McCarron cast a surprising 146-141 ballot for Robinson. Judge Jim Carrig had it 149-138 for Pender and Judge Johnny Savko 147-142 for the local boy. The AP card was 144-141 in favor of Pender.

When Pender dethroned Sugar Ray Jan. 22 in the same Boston Garden ring on a highly disputed split decision, there were many dissenting shouts from ringside. This time the vote for Pender was extremely popular.

Robinson's slip surely was showing. Time after time he tried to pull the trigger on his right-hand lead but it usually missed fire and sputtered harmlessly over Pender's head.

In the fifth round, Robinson opened with a long right to the side of the head that shook Pender and brought a spray of water from his hair. But he couldn't follow up soon enough and let his man get away.

From the sixth round on, Pender's tactics of "push, pull and shove" paid off. He would beat Robinson more often than not with a left hook. Then he would move in close and beat a tattoo on Robinson's unprotected side with his free right hand. Time after time Referee McCarron had to warn both for rabbit punching. Robinson drew warnings to "keep them up" in the sixth round.

The victory left Pender the 160-pound champ in Massachusetts, New York and Europe. Gene Fullmer is recognized by the National Boxing Assn., which stripped Robinson of his crown May 4, 1959 long before he lost the two-state version to Pender.

Pender came in exactly at the class limit of 160 pounds. Robinson was a pound and a half lighter at 158½ pounds.

The crowd of 8,422 which paid a gross gate of $67,656, far below expectations, rose and cheered in the final round. A desperate Robinson, who appeared to sense he needed a knockout to win, was flinging them from left field and trying to bull his man around the ring.

In the final frantic seconds, the two went through the ropes with Pender on the bottom and Robinson on top. Referee McCarron had to help Pender back through the ropes.

Asked if he planned to retire again, Robinson said in his dressing room, "I don't know yet."

Speaking almost in a whisper as he stood in his ring trunks, Robinson said, "I wasn't rusty. I just didn't have what it takes to win. I tried to finish strong. But the judges made the decision, I didn't."

George Gainford, Robinson's adviser, complained about the decision and said, "Robinson won 10 rounds. That is why I wrote to Kefauver." (Sen. Estes Kefauver, whose Senate committee is investigating boxing).

Pender said Robinson's punches began losing their sting in the fifth round.

"That was when I realized that his strategy was to try to knock me out early, rather than go for victory on points," he said.

The champ said he would take a month off and then try to get a match with Archie Moore for the world light heavyweight title.

"Moore is slower and should be easier to hit," he said. "There should be more money in that fight than with Gene Fullmer."

Pender got about $45,000 from this fight including $26,250 from the $150,000 paid for the television rights. Robinson got $105,000 from TV and $18,000 from the gate for a total of $123,000.

The referee who voted for Robinson said he took points away from Pender for "repeatedly hitting on the back of Robinson's neck." He also said he had to warn Robinson for low blows and took a round away from him on his own scorecard.

It was the first time Robinson, a veteran of 21 years in the prize ring, ever lost a rematch.

His record now is 143-8-2 and one no decision contest. Pender's record is 37-5-2.

9 To 6

Cards Erupt In 5th To Top Bucs

Cardinals exploded with five runs in the fifth inning Friday night to beat the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates 9-6 as Larry Jackson staggered to his seventh straight victory.

Bob Duhla stopped the Bucs in relief in the seventh and eighth but yielded a run with two out in the ninth. Lindy McDaniel retired Dick Groat with two on to end the game.

The Cardinals' Ken Boyer pounded his 15th homer to tie Chicago's Ernie Banks for the major league lead. Don Hoak and Smoky Burgess each hit his fourth for the Pirates.

During the big fifth, the fifth-place Cardinals collected seven hits, six of which came in succession after two were out.

Jackson opened the rally with a single, then was perched on second with two out. Bob Nieman's second double scored Jackson and kayoed Harvey Haddix, the Pittsburgh starter who was charged with the loss.

Bennie Daniels lasted just long enough to yield singles to Boyer, Daryl Spencer and Bill White. Curt Flood and Hal Smith then greeted Jim Umbricht with run-producing singles.

Dyes Wins; Don Styron Second At Houston Meet

Charley Tidwell Ties 100 Record

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — NCAA - Champion Charley Tidwell, who earlier this season found Texas tracks short of record size, ran 100 full meters as fast as any human ever has here Friday night in the fifth annual Meet of Champions.

Tidwell, who ran 200 meters in what would have been a record 20.2 at Abilene earlier this season only to be told the track was a few yards short of the mark, won his event here in 10.1 seconds to thoroughly squelch an outstanding dash field.

Tidwell beat Stone Johnson of Grambling College, Dave Sime of the Duke AC and Bill Woodhouse among others, with Johnson placing second and Sime third, both in 10.3.

Dave Styron finished an unclocked fifth in the race but only about 3½ yards behind the leader. It was Styron's only short run of the night, for the brilliant Northeast Track Club youngster failed to qualify in the 200-meter preliminaries Friday afternoon.

Styron's qualifying time for the 100-meters Friday was 10.4 but he made his move too late in the longer dash and finished out of the money in 21.8.

Tidwell came back from his 100-meter performance 40 minutes later to win the 200, run around a curve, in 20.8. His winning time was only two tenths of a second off the world record and beat Sime by two feet.

Tidwell was voted the meet's outstanding performer and included in his night's work was a strong anchor leg for Kansas' 400-meter relay team which caught Don Styron at the start of the stretch run and won for the Jayhawks second place behind winning Baylor. Baylor won the event in 40.4, a meet record.

Another Kansan, Bill Alley, the NCAA record holder for the javelin, broke his own national collegiate record Friday afternoon with a toss of 273-10½. The big fellow then came back Friday night and threw 274-9 in exhibition. His winning throw in the finals will be submitted for record.

The 400-meter hurdles saw another meet record shattered when world record holder Glenn Davis won the event in 50.2 seconds, one second over his world mark. Don Styron did not place in the event.

Still another mark was registered in the hurdles when Lee Calhoun, the defending Olympic champion, took his 110-meter specialty in 13.6. Calhoun was pressed all the way by Northeast's Don Styron who finished just a step back in 13.8. Each of the four top men in the event bettered the Olympic standard, as well as the meet record of 14.1.

Houston won the 1600-meter relay in 3:09.1 to beat Kansas which finished in 3:11.8. Northeast scratched from the event.

Northeast picked up a first place in the hop-step-jump where Jerry Dyes won with 47-6. Lud Berry gave the Shreveport Athletic Club a second place in the shot put with a toss of 54-8½. The event was won by Ed Nuttig of Georgia Tech with 54-10½. Perhaps the most important man in the shot put wasn't there at all. He was Bill Nider who was scheduled to compete here but did not show.

Miss Creed, 21, regained the title on the last hole of the 26-hole finals over the Alexandria Country Club Course.

Miss Creed took a 3 up lead on the first nine of the morning nine and was 2 up after the first 18. Miss Simmons rallied to draw even for the first time after 27 holes. ## Rouse Pitches Vols Past Dubach

Collegian Jerry Rouse bested old pro Bill Bagwell in a sparkling mound duel here Friday night as the West Monroe Vols scored a 3-2 La-Ark League victory over Dubach on George Fruge's run-scoring single in the eleventh inning.

The win moved the Volunteers into a tie with the Hornets for third place with identical 3-4 won - lost records.

Lefty Fred Southerland gave up only five hits and struck out 21 batters as he pitched the Monroe Sports to a 6-3 victory over the league - leading Ruston Ramblers in the league's only other contest.

The loss was the first of the season for the previously unbeaten for Rouse, the hard-luck junk pitcher who usually has to pitch a shutout or lose. He was probably at his best, striking out 11 while yielding only two walks.

He was touched for two runs in the seventh on a double by Bagwell and singles by Max Green and Jess Moore.

The game produced a total of 22 strikes - outs. In addition to Rouse's 11, Bagwell whiffed seven and Ferguson four.

Giants Stop Braves, 5-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays erupted from a batting slump with two singles and a three-run homer Friday night off Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as right-hander Sam Jones won his eighth game for San Francisco with a 5-0 five-hit shutout.

Mays also stole two bases as he enjoyed his perfect night at bat before a Candlestick Park crowd of 36,555. In his fourth time at bat he drew a walk from reliever Bob Rush.

The triumph moved the Giants again within one game of the National League leading Pittsburgh which lost to St. Louis 9-6.

Moreland Plans To Ink Pro Pact

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Jack Moreland, Louisiana Tech's Little All-America basketball star, said last night he planned to sign with the professional Detroit Pistons next week.

Moreland, who made the United Press International Little All-America team for the past two seasons and the all-Gulf States Conference team for the last three years, has a year of college eligibility remaining.

The 6-7 Moreland said his plans were to fly to Detroit and sign with the National Basketball Assn. team June 19. Moreland was the first draft choice of the club in the annual NBA draft this year.

Moreland set a Louisiana high school scoring record, since broken by Plainview's Harold Strother, in his prep career at Minden. One of the most heavily-courted prep eagles in Louisiana history, he attended North Carolina State for one year before transferring to Tech and was the center of a recruiting scandal that resulted in North Carolina State being placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The brilliant center led Louisiana Tech to the championship of the Gulf States Conference in his second year at the Ruston School. Hampered by injuries during his final college campaign, Moreland nevertheless led the GSC with an 18.1 scoring average. He scored a total of 361 points in 20 of his team's 26 games and pulled down 301 rebounds. His game high was 41 points against Arkansas Tech.

Monroe Juniors Defeat Bastrop

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Monroe rammed over two runs in the 8th inning to take a 6-4, extra-inning American Legion Junior Baseball decision over Bastrop here last night.

The victory, along with Farmerville's 3-2 nod over previously unbeaten Ruston, left the battle for first place in the fifth district standings a three-way tie between Monroe, Ruston and Farmerville, all with 2-1 records.

Tied with Bastrop at 4-4 at the end of the regulation seven innings, Monroe began its rally in the eighth when James Cromwell led off with a triple. He scored an out later on Melvin Jordan's single.

Carl Guinn doubled to send Jordan to third before Jim Vestal grounded to third for the second out, Jordan coming home with the second run of the frame.

Right-hander Neal Guinn went all the way to pick up his first victory of the campaign, giving up seven hits and three earned runs. Floyd Jordan lost it, evening his mark at 1-1.

Jordan was the game's top hit-

SCHEDULE FOR THE STYRONS

It's pretty safe to say, we think, that the Styrons and their Northeast teammates did all right in Houston's Meet of Champions last night.

This is being written Friday afternoon and the star-studded meet is Friday night but after their first-filled trip out West, the Styrons are not likely to embarrass any of their fans in Houston despite the strong competition.

The twins will next be in the "Golden West Invitational," a national high school meet, in Los Angeles, to run some exhibitions against some of the best in the country. That'll be June 18.

Then June 24-25 they'll be in the National AAU meet in Bakersfield, Calif., the make-or-break affair. This will be the only chance the boys will have to qualify for the Olympic trials. If they make the grade there, they'll go to the trials at Stanford July 1-2. Then maybe Rome.

California took to the Styrons just like the folks around here. They were gallery favorites, got a big play in the California papers and had breakfast with Sports Illustrated writer Tex Maule.

They also made a pretty big impression on their competitors. Lew Hartzog quotes Hayes Jones, world record holder for the low hurdles around a turn, as saying, "I kept running even with him (Don Styron) and expecting him to fade. Then about the sixth hurdle, I faded."

THE WALKING STRATFORD

England is now in the midst of a cross-country walking craze and the Britishers, running out of space in their island kingdom, have started hoofing over the United States. A couple of British soldiers and that hardy vegetarian, Dr. Barbara Moore, are hiking across the country presently.

There's a Monroe angle to all this. Arthur John Stratford, late father of Charles A. Stratford of 3310 Gordon, won one of the first cross country walking races in England back in 1898.

Charles Stratford says as well as he can remember, the race was 15 miles and his father, a resident of Sussex County, was 20 at the time. Charles once had a picture of his father standing beside the trophy he captured in the race, one of many he won.

The local Stratford, an unbeaten 135-pound wrestler for many years, has quite an athletic tradition in his family, not all of it established by his father. A grandfather, Willie Croxon, was lightweight champ of Middlesex, England, for several years, while Charles' son, Charles R., was a crack hurdler in high school. Charles R. is presently music instructor at Jonesboro-Hodge High School.

SHORT SHOTS

Larry Ridgway, Bob Spade, Larry Strahan, Mel Duncan and Jack Pogue, who bowled three straight 92's here last week, are hoping to get some recognition from the American Bowling Congress. The ABC awards shoulder patches for individual triplicates but nobody seems to know the policy on team honors. Sammy LaDatto, Fair Park's pitching sensation, has signed a contract with the Cleveland Indians for a bonus rumored to run into five figures. Sports Illustrated has a picture of Dave Styron winning the 100-meter dash at the Compton Relays. Charley Wilkinson, Fair Park's big first baseman, has signed a Centenary scholarship. The local Jaycees are again planning a tennis tournament this summer. Seem to be more folks playing tennis this summer than in a long time. Mostly kids, some of them pretty good.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Mantle's Homer Beats Tribe, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey dians on two hits over the last Mantle's eighth inning home run four innings after blowing a 3-1 lead.

Mantle's shot, his 12th of the year, tagged Dick Stigman with this third straight defeat. The southpaw reliever no was a 2-4 record, although he retired 10 of the 13 men he faced after relieving starter Larry Locke in the fifth inning.

The Yankees scored their other three in the third, on a walk, a double by Cletis Boyer and singles by Dittmar, Hector Lopez and Mantle.

Locke, who shut out Detroit on six hits in his last start—his first game since being recalled from the minors, then got out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth, when Dittmar hit into a pitcher-home-first doubleplay.

The Indians out-hit the Yankees 10-0, scoring in the first on Jim Piersall's leadoff, first-pitch triple and a single by Ken Aspromonte. They got single runs again in the fourth and fifth, with Kuenn's double tying it 3-3.

Dittmar then proved tough. With two on in the fifth, he retired Tito Francona on a grounder for the final out. Then he put down seven in a row until Kuenn got an infield single on a broken-bat pop up and Francona followed with a single in the eighth.

Dittmar got out of that jam by retiring Vic Power on a foul pop and Woody Held on a grounder to short.

FIRST MAJOR LEAGUE WIN

Ex-LSU Cager Hurls Cubs To 6-1 Victory Over Phils

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — Towering Mark Freeman, once a Louisiana State basketball player, registered his first major league victory, scattering four Philadelphia singles as the Chicago Cubs clipped the Phils 6-1 Friday.

The 6-foot-6 inch Freeman was making his second Cub start since he was acquired May 19 from Richmond in a deal with the New York Yankees for pitcher Art Ceccarelli and cash.

Freeman struck out 7, walked 4 and hit 1 batter as he moved down the last-place Phils who had won four of five previous starts.

The 225-pound right-hander allowed the Phils a single each in the second, in the third—when they scored their run—in the fourth, and in the sixth. The Phils got only one man on base after that when Freeman issued a harmless walk in the eighth.

Ernie Banks aided the 29-year-old "rookie" pitcher by belting a two-run homer in the third, his 15th for his 45th and 46th RBI and the clear-cut lead in both departments.

The loser was Jim Owens (3-6), who was yanked in the fifth and followed by Reuben Gomez and Humberto Robinson.

Freeman, who left LSU as a junior in 1951, had been mainly in the minors since, except for a military hitch. He had a 13-9 record at Seattle last season, including a no-hitter.

After the Cubs scored in the fifth on Richie Ashburn's single and Ed Bouchee's double, the Phils tied it 1-1 in the third on a walk, an infield out and Tony Taylor's single.

In the bottom of the third, Banks cracked his homer after a walk and a force-out for a 3-1 Cub lead.

The Cubs got two gift runs in the fifth as Taylor erred twice on the same play. Freeman dumped a single into right and Ashburn beat out a bunt. Banks slammed a boulder to short, but Taylor overstepped second on a throw from shortstop Bob Malmkus, missing a force of Ashburn, and then threw wildly past third, both Freeman and Ashburn scoring.

Palmer Takes Oklahoma City Lead With 134

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, returning to the professional golf tour with a vengeance, came through with a 3-under-par 66 Friday to take the second round lead in the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 36-hole score of 134.

The strong hitter from Ligonier, Pa., golf's top money winner this year with some $50,000 in his pocket, shot nines of 33-33 over the 6,410 yard Twin Hills Country Club course with a par of 35-35-71.

Palmer missed the cutoff at Indianapolis two weeks ago for the first time in two years and skipped the Memphis Open last week because of other commitments.

Palmer got around this tree-infested course in 68 in the opening round and then assumed command of the tournament with his sensational round Friday. He carded seven birdies but had to be satisfied with bogies on two par five holes.

SCHEDULE FOR THE STYRONS

It's pretty safe to say, we think, that the Styrons and their Northeast teammates did all right in Houston's Meet of Champions last night.

This is being written Friday afternoon and the star-studded meet is Friday night but after their first-filled trip out West, the Styrons are not likely to embarrass any of their fans in Houston despite the strong competition.

The twins will next be in the "Golden West Invitational," a national high school meet, in Los Angeles, to run some exhibitions against some of the best in the country. That'll be June 18.

Then June 24-25 they'll be in the National AAU meet in Bakersfield, Calif., the make-or-break affair. This will be the only chance the boys will have to qualify for the Olympic trials. If they make the grade there, they'll go to the trials at Stanford July 1-2. Then maybe Rome.

California took to the Styrons just like the folks around here. They were gallery favorites, got a big play in the California papers and had breakfast with Sports Illustrated writer Tex Maule.

They also made a pretty big impression on their competitors. Lew Hartzog quotes Hayes Jones, world record holder for the low hurdles around a turn, as saying, "I kept running even with him (Don Styron) and expecting him to fade. Then about the sixth hurdle, he faded."

THE WALKING STRATFORD

England is now in the midst of a cross-country walking craze and the Britishers, running out of space in their island kingdom, have started hoofing over the United States. A couple of British soldiers and that hardy vegetarian, Dr. Barbara Moore, are hiking across the country presently.

There's a Monroe angle to all this. Arthur John Stratford, late father of Charles A. Stratford of 3310 Gordon, won one of the first cross country walking races in England back in 1898.

Charles Stratford says as well as he can remember, the race was 15 miles and his father, a resident of Sussex County, was 20 at the time. Charles once had a picture of his father standing beside the trophy he captured in the race, one of many he won.

The local Stratford, an unbeaten 135-pound wrestler for many years, has quite an athletic tradition in his family, not all of it established by his father. A grandfather, Willie Croxon, was lightweight champ of Middlesex, England, for several years, while Charles' son, Charles R., was a crack hurdler in high school. Charles R. is presently music instructor at Jonesboro-Hodge High School.

SHORT SHOTS

Larry Ridgway, Bob Spade, Larry Strahan, Mel Duncan and Jack Pogue, who bowled three straight 928's here last week, are hoping to get some recognition from the American Bowling Congress. The ABC awards shoulder patches for individual tripartites but nobody seems to know the policy on team honors. . . . Sammy LaDatto, Fair Park's pitching sensation, has signed a contract with the Cleveland Indians for a bonus rumored to run into five figures. . . . Sports Illustrated has a picture of Dave Styron winning the 100-meter dash at the Compton Relays. . . . Charley Wilkinson, Fair Park's big first baseman, has signed a Centenary scholarship. . . . The local Jaycees are again planning a tennis tournament this summer. Seem to be more folks playing tennis this summer than in a long time. Mostly kids, some of them pretty good.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Mantle's Homer Beats Tribe, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's eighth inning home run, his fourth in three games, cracked a tie and ended Cleveland's winning streak at five Friday night as the New York Yankees defeated the first-place Indians 4-3 in the opener of a four-game series.

The loss, third in 10 games for the Indians, cut their American League lead to a half-game over the Baltimore Orioles, who defeated Kansas City 5-4.

It was the fourth straight success for the third-place Yankees and their sixth in seven games, pushing them within 2½ games of the Tribe.

Right-hander Art Ditmar (4-3) was the winner, blanking the In-

FIRST MAJOR LEAGUE WIN

Ex-LSU Cager Hurls Cubs To 6-1 Victory Over Phils

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — Towering Mark Freeman, once a Louisiana State basketball player, registered his first major league victory, scattering four Philadelphia singles as the Chicago Cubs clipped the Phils 6-1 Friday.

The 6-foot-6 inch Freeman was making his second Cub start since he was acquired May 19 from Richmond in a deal with the New York Yankees for pitcher Art Ceccarelli and cash.

Freeman struck out 7, walked 4 and hit 1 batter as he mowed down the last-place Phils who had won four of five previous starts.

The 225-pound right-hander allowed the Phils a single each in the second, in the third—when

The front nine greens at Bayou Desiard golf course has been re-sodded with Tifton 328 grass and will be open for play today, club officials said today.

Completion of the nine holes gives the course 18 holes of Tifton sod. The back nine is re-worked with the newer type grass last year.

Palmer Takes Oklahoma City Lead With 134

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Arnold Palmer, returning to the professional golf tour with a vengeance, came through with a 5-under-par 66 Friday to take the second round lead in the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 36-hole score of 134.

The strong hitter from Ligonier, Pa., golf's top money winner this year with some $50,000 in his pocket, shot nines of 33-33 over the 6,440 yard Twin Hills Country Club course with a par of 35-36-71.

Palmer missed the cutoff at Indianapolis two weeks ago for the first time in two years and skipped the Memphis Open last week because of other commitments.

Palmer got around this tree-infested course in 63 in the opening round and then assumed command of the tournament with his sensational round Friday. He carded seven birdies but had to be satisfied with bogies on two par five holes.

Jurges Gets Ax As Bosox Pilot

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Jurges Friday was fired as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox made the announcement in a prepared release only minutes before Friday night's Boston-Chicago game.

Jurges was given a leave of absence as the Red Sox manager only two days ago. At that time, the Red Sox said he was ordered to take a rest by doctors.

Jurges, now at his home in Arlington, Va., was reported under severe strain due to the slump that had sent his Red Sox to the bottom of the American League.

Veteran Coach Del Baker was named at that time as interim manager. The Red Sox announcement Friday night said Baker will continue in that capacity.

No mention was made of a permanent successor to Jurges. Jurges, a one-time National League great at shortstop, took over the Red Sox field generalship from Mike Higgins in mid-season last year.

He took a last-place team and brought them to a fifth-place finish.

The Red Sox started this season in good shape, rising to second place early in the season. Then they went into a tailspin—including a 10-game losing streak—and there were rumors Jurges might be fired.

He was given no less than three votes of confidence by owner Tom Yawkey and General Manager Bucky Harris.

When he was ordered to take a rest, the Red Sox management said he would return as soon as possible.

Then Friday night the Red Sox issued this statement:

"In view of the fact that mention has been made in the press of a letter that Bill Jurges wrote to Tom Yawkey it has been decided to clarify at least one point—there was no ultimatum and absolutely nothing in it that could be construed as such. It was a purely personal letter to Yawkey from Jurges.

"It also has been decided by Mr. Yawkey and Mr. Harris that Jurges might desire to take as much rest as he thinks necessary and perhaps later become af-filed with some other team in baseball which he could not do if he were still under contract to the Red Sox.

"Therefore, he is being given his unconditional release and his salary will be paid him in full for the 1960 season.

"An airmail special delivery letter to this effect was sent to Jurges today. Del Baker will continue to act as interim manager."

Rookie Dick Stigman of the Cleveland Indians held Kansas City to six hits in winning his first major league start, 3-1. He had a 9-17 record at San Diego in 1959.

Summer Can Be A Breeze For Hostess

Summer house-keeping can be a breeze for the smart girl who takes advantage of all the convenient, throw-away products in this wonderful new world.

Don't you sometimes wonder how Grandma ever lived without such modern conveniences as aluminum foil, paper plates and napkins, paper towels and plastic wraps? If you're smart, and get the man of the house to broil a steak on the outdoor grill, you can entertain a dozen at dinner with nary a pot, pan or dish to wash. Here's how it's done:

Season the steak and wrap it neatly in foil until ready to broil. Wrap baking potatoes in foil and bake in the coals, about an hour before you put the steak on. Corn - on - the - cob may be roasted in similar manner, with butter, salt and pepper all in the package - but this goes on along with the steak. And you can make a package of other vegetables - green beans, onions and sliced tomatoes, for instance - and cook together in foil, allowing one package to each guest.

You serve on paper plates, with paper napkins, of course. After dinner, stow away all left-overs in plastic bags, the newest kind come on a roll and can be snapped off as you need them. These are great for freezing foods, too, and for many other uses, from refrigerator to dresser drawers.

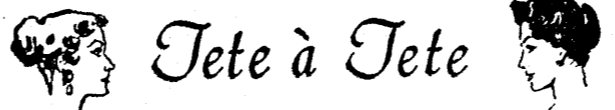

After the meal, the only things you'll have to wash are the knives and forks - unless you can persuade the guests to eat with their fingers.

Questions And Answers Guide For Homemakers

By BETTY PEPPIS

Q. I have two black loveseats and a black rocker. Wood pieces are all light wood. Three walls are painted light grey. The rug, one chair and lamps match the walls. The fourth wall is a cantaloupe color. I have found this color impossible to match so what would you advise for throw pillows, seat cushion for rocker and draperies? Should I use white sheer curtains instead?

A. — You probably could, with enough searching, find exact matches for the cantaloupe wall in pillows, etc. The effect will be subtle, however, using variations of the same color. You can use a related color such as burnt orange. This belongs to the same color group as cantaloupe but is richer, more intense and would be good for the rocker and a sofa pillow. For the other sofa pillows use bright green and light yellow or white. Since you have no pattern in the room you could have printed draperies in orange or green on white. White sheer curtains would be equally good. Accessories such as ashtrays might be green and white.

Q. — Our living room is sandalwood. On one wall is a fireplace of stone in shades of tan, yellow and pink. Draperies are floral in green and pink on white. The furniture is mahogany, sofa is green and one chair, the rug is grey. The walls need to be painted and I would like a color to make the room seem larger. Would a light color be practical?

A. — Pale toned walls are eminently practical today because of the latex-based washable paints. You can use a subtle off-white, or a very pale tint of the pink in your fireplace. Pink would also create a flattering background for your mahogany.

Q. — My 12-year-old son's room is paneled in knotty pine. The ceiling is sloped and painted mint green. What color should I use for draperies, spread and rug?

A. — An emerald green tweed would be very attractive for the bedspread and curtains. The rug might be a small cotton area rug patterned with greens and yellow. Or you could repeat the color of draperies and bedspread in a room-size rug for a stronger statement of color.

Q. — I want to paint my kitchen and can't decide on color. Floor is dark red and grey tile. Cabinets are natural birch.

A. — The walls might be white for a very fresh, crisp look. You might also consider a pale pink, which would be a flattering color for the birch cabinets. Accessories and ceiling should be white.

Q. — I would like to buy two chairs for the living room. Walls are tan, sofa and chair are toast, rug is soft light green and draperies are white with print in aqua, pink, brown and gold.

A. — Have the chairs in a soft shade of aqua, repeating a color from the draperies. Sofa pillows in bright aqua would be a good idea to further relate the chairs to the rest of the scheme.

Q. — My kitchen has dishwasher, sink and countertop range in pink. Countertops and floors are yellow. Walls are light beige and I plan to get a round white table. Please suggest colors for chairs, refrigerator, curtains and accessories.

A. — The kitchen could be very inviting with the warm pastel colors which you have. I think that a pink refrigerator to match your other appliances would be best. The curtains could be white or a fruit print of yellow and pink on white. Around the white table have chairs lacquered in bright shades of pink and yellow, two shocking pink chairs with seat cushions of yellow and two yellow chairs with pink cushions. Other accessories such as canisters could be yellow.

Q. — I have a new house and would like advice about color in the living room. I have a lime green sofa and chair. One chair is deep red and other furniture is blond wood. Lamps are red and gray with red shades. These can be painted. Should I change the color? If so, what color shades? Please advise colors for walls, draperies and rug.

A. — With the strongly contrasting colors you have, a light neutral will be best for the walls. A very light sand beige, perhaps. The draperies could be natural linen or even a print of red or yellow and pink. Draperies are floral in green and pink on white. The furniture is mahogany, sofa is green and one chair, the rug is grey. The walls need to be painted and I would like a color to make the room seem larger. Would a light color be practical?

A. — Pale toned walls are eminently practical today because of the latex-based washable paints. You can use a subtle off-white, or a very pale tint of the pink in your fireplace. Pink would also create a flattering background for your mahogany.

Absent-Minded Wife Forgets Where Car Is

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a wife who is just plain careless? She is always throwing my shirts into the washing machine with a pay check in the pocket, or a wallet with cash in it.

She leaves the basement windows open and the rain comes in and ruins the lawn equipment. I've just about stopped letting her use the car because she can never remember where she parked it. Twice she has taken a bus home and we've had to circle around town in a taxi together after supper to find it.

She calls each of our four children by the wrong name. The kids are always saying "Ma, don't you know me?"

This same woman never forgets our anniversary or her birthday. What do you make of it and what can I do? —CALL ME SAM

Dear Sam: Your wife is absent-minded. Since you're aware of her pattern of behavior, take care to remove your own wallet from your shirt pocket, check the basement windows and attend to the small details that most wives take care of. As for calling the children by the wrong names, there's not a mother in this world with more than one child who hasn't called them "All" by the wrong names. When your wife starts to call "You" by the wrong name, then you can start to worry.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 15 and have never had a date with a boy. The main reason is because we have money and my father drives a Cadillac. The boys at school think they are not good enough for me.

I wish we had a cheaper car like most people, but we don't. Whenever my dad picks me up at school or drops me off I hide my face but it doesn't help. My personality could be better, too. I blush a lot and can't think of anything to say when a boy talks to me. Can you help me to overcome my datelessness? —SELF CONSCIOUS

Dear S.C.: I have to deprive you of a great excuse but boys couldn't care less whether you traveled by Cadillac, llama pack or piggy-back.

The key to popularity is naturalness and friendliness. Be yourself, then forget all about "You" and concentrate on "Him." The art of being a good conversationalist is knowing how to listen.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm very much in love with a fellow I've known for over 13 years. Ollie drinks quite a bit but I have never nagged him about it. I figure it's his stomach not mine.

I've been asking him when we're going to get married. After 13 years a girl has a right to expect a fellow to get serious. He says he's afraid to marry me because we're related. (His dad's sister married my dad's brother.) He says if he married me people would say he had to marry a relative because a stranger wouldn't have him.

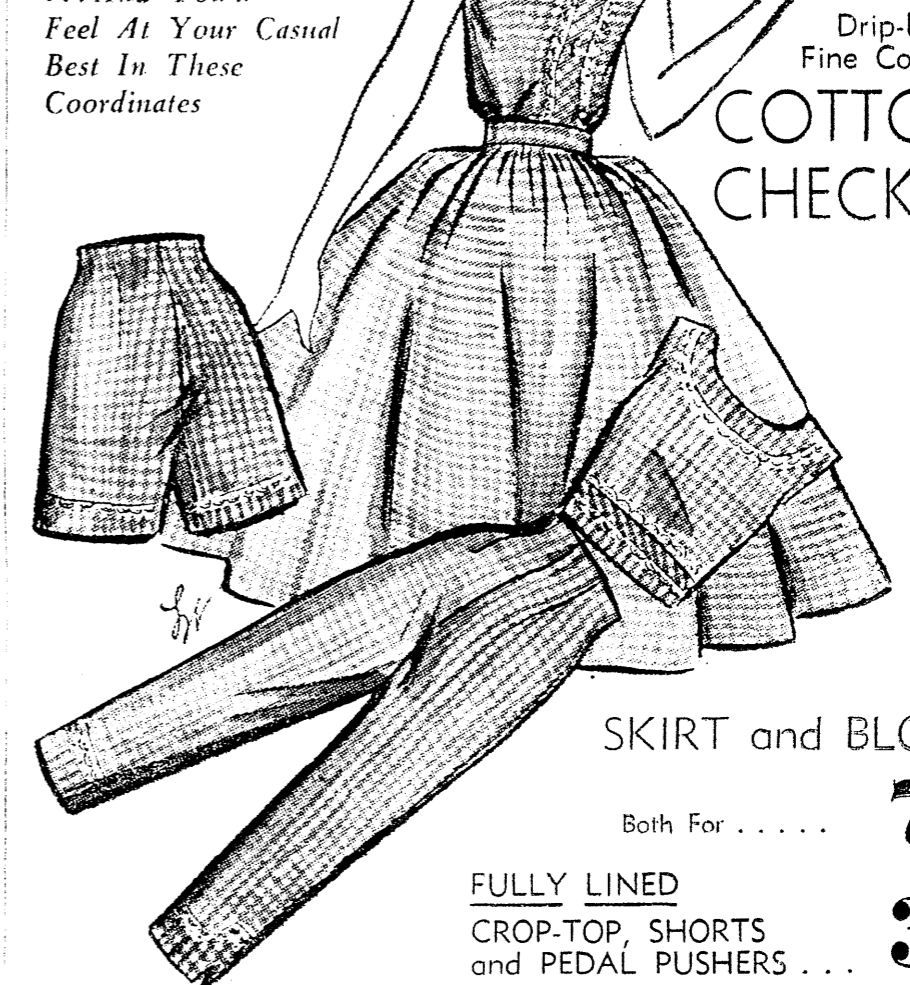

Please, Ann, tell me how I can get this man to be sensible. —JOSIE

Dear Josie: You are first cousins and many states do not permit first cousins to marry.

Aside from this, a drinking man is not my idea of a good marriage prospect. Consider yourself lucky you are not married to him, and look elsewhere. It may be "His" stomach but believe me, it would be "Your" headache.

Miss Guerriero Honoree At Tuesday Night Party

Being entertained this week with bridal parties is Miss Manzie Guerriero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guerriero, whose marriage to Dr. Samuel Gould Welborn will be solemnized at Holy Name of Jesus Catholic Church in New Orleans June 29. Dr. Welborn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fowle Welborn of Lexington, North Carolina.

The Highland Park Country Club was the scene on Tuesday evening of a kitchen shower hosted by five aunts of the bride-elect, Mrs. Herbert Cooper, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, Mrs. Charles Guerriero, Mrs. George Guerriero and Mrs. B. W. Morrison.

Yellow day lilies were used to decorate the lounge of the club for the occasion. Focal decor was the refreshment table, where its chaise longue cloth was centered with an eye-catching arrangement of green vegetables interspersed with miniature kitchen utensils. Completing the appointments were gray napkins and chaise longue.

Miss Guerriero, who wore a black linen sheath trimmed in red, was seated in a chair decorated with an arrangement of small white chrysanthemums, fern, and small kitchen utensils. Mrs. T. O. Bancroft Jr. and Miss Gloria Kalil sat on either side of the honoree and helped her open her gifts, which were brought to her by Misses True Guerriero, Sheila Harkey, and Terry Crenshaw. Also assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Gilbert Harkey of Shreveport and Mrs. Fred Crenshaw.

Other invited guests included Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. N. B. Albion, Mrs. R. T. Armstrong, Mrs. T. O. Bancroft Jr., Mrs. Jack Baugh, Mrs. G. Fritz Becker, Mrs. C. C. ## Summer Can Be A Breeze For Hostess

Summer housekeeping can be a breeze for the smart girl who takes advantage of all the convenient, throw-away products in this wonderful new world.

Don't you sometimes wonder how Grandma ever lived without such modern boons as aluminum foil, paper plates and napkins, paper towels and plastic wraps? If you're smart, and get the man of the house to broil a steak on the outdoor grill, you can entertain a dozen at dinner with nary a pot, pan or dish to wash. Here's how it's done:

Season the steak and wrap it neatly in foil until ready to broil. Wrap baking potatoes in foil and bake in the coals, about an hour before you put the steak on. Corn - on - the - cob may be roasted in similar manner, with butter, salt and pepper all in the package - but this goes on along with the steak. And you can make a package of other vegetables - green beans, onions and sliced tomatoes, for instance - and cook together in foil, allowing one package to each guest.

You serve on paper plates, with paper napkins, of course. After dinner, stow away all left-overs in plastic bags, the newest kind come on a roll and can be snapped off as you need them. (These are great for freezing foods, too, and for many other uses, from refrigerator to dresser drawers.)

After the meal, the only things you'll have to wash are the knives and forks - unless you can persuade the guests to eat with their fingers.

LONDON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's big brother Edgar declared Friday "I can take the President on at golf any time, and beat him."

The eldest Eisenhower, a Tacoma, Wash., lawyer, made his boast at the airport before flying to Dublin for a vacation.

"We have a game together whenever we can," he told reporters. "I usually beat him."

"Now, now, Edgar," said his wife, Lucy. "Let's say you beat him sometimes."

Questions And Answers Guide For Homemakers

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. I have two black loveseats and a black rocker. Wood pieces are all light wood. Three walls are painted light grey. The rug, one chair and lamps match the walls. The fourth wall is a cantaloupe color. I have found this color impossible to match so what would you advise for throw pillows, seat cushion for rocker and draperies? Should I use white sheer curtains instead?

A. — You probably could, with enough searching, find exact matches for the cantaloupe wall in pillows, etc. The effect will be subtle, however, using variations of the same color. You can use a related color such as burnt orange. This belongs to the same color group as cantaloupe but is richer, more intense and would be good for the rocker and a sofa pillow. For the other sofa pillows use bright green and light yellow or white. Since you have no pattern in the room you could have printed draperies in orange or green on white. White sheer curtains would be equally good. Accessories such as ashtrays might be green and white.

Q. — Our living room is sandalwood. On one wall is a fireplace of stone in shades of tan, yellow and pink. Draperies are floral in green and pink on white. The furniture is mahogany, sofa is green and one chair red. The rug is grey. The walls need to be painted and I would like a color to make the room seem larger. Would a light color be practical?

A. — Pale toned walls are eminently practical today because of the latex-based washable paints. You can use a subtle off-white, or a very pale tint of the pink in your fireplace. Pink would also create a flattering background for your mahogany.

Q. — My 12-year-old son's room is paneled in knotty pine. The ceiling is sloped and painted mint green. What color should I use for draperies, spread and rug?

A. — An emerald green tweed would be very attractive for the bedspread and curtains. The rug might be a small cotton area rug patterned with greens and yellow. Or you could repeat the color of draperies and bedspread in a room-size rug for a stronger statement of color.

Q. — I want to paint my kitchen and can't decide on color. Floor is dark red and grey tile. Cabinets are natural birch.

A. — The walls might be white for a very fresh, crisp look. You might also consider a pale pink which would be a flattering color for the birch cabinets. Accessories and ceiling should be white.

Q. — I would like to buy two chairs for the living room. Walls are tan, sofa and chair are toast-rug is soft light green and draperies are white with print in aqua, pink, brown and gold.

A. — Have the chairs in a soft shade of aqua, repeating a color from the draperies. Sofa pillows in bright aqua would be a good idea to further relate the chairs to the rest of the scheme.

Q. — My kitchen has dishwasher, sink and countertop range in pink. Countertops and floors are yellow. Walls are light beige and I plan to get a round white table. Please suggest colors for chairs, refrigerator, curtains and accessories.

A. — The kitchen could be very inviting with the warm pastel colors which you have. I think that a pink refrigerator to match your other appliances would be best. The curtains could be white or a fruit print of yellow and pink on white. Around the white table have chairs lacquered in bright shades of pink and yellow, two shocking pink chairs with seat cushions of yellow and two yellow chairs with pink cushions. Other accessories such as canisters could be yellow.

Q. — I have a new house and would like advice about color in the living room. I have a lime green sofa and chair. One chair is deep red and other furniture is blond wood. Lamps are red and gray with red shades. These can be painted. Should I change the color? If so, what color shades? Please advise colors for walls, draperies and rug.

A. — With the strongly contrasting colors you have, a light neutral will be best for the walls. A very light sand beige, perhaps. The draperies could be natural linen or even a print of red or green on beige. Have your rug in beige or lime. You need not necessarily paint the lamps, however, I would suggest that accessories be white with a few touches of red. You might consider painting the lamps white and using white shades.

West Oak Club Holds Meeting

The West Oak Garden Club held its final meeting of the year in the Jade Room of the Paragon Club with Mrs. O. J. White and Mrs. R. A. Claridge as hostesses.

Upon arrival the incoming officers were presented cleverly arranged corsages in shades of pink. The members and guests, Mrs. Dick Troy and Mrs. Grace Holman, were seated at a T-shaped table with clusters of magnolias lining the center of the table.

Mrs. C. Pat Thompson presided over a short business meeting when Mrs. Dick Troy and Mrs. Ouida Nettles were voted new members. The President then presented Mrs. W. E. Lambert who installed the new officers. Each officer was presented a flower and as she was installed it became part of an arrangement representing the stability of the club. The new officers for the coming year are Mrs. R. A. Claridge, president; Mrs. L. R. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. M. Jones, recording secretary; Mrs. L. J. Leslie, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jack Windham, treasurer.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Thompson was presented a gift in appreciation of her service to the club. Mrs. Beth Clark gave an interesting showing of gardens of Mexico to the following: Mrs. Louis Evangelista, Mrs. J. H. Kern, Mrs. Troy, Mrs. Walter Dunn, Mrs. A. R. Scarpulla, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bill Cain, Mrs. L. T. Harper, Mrs. White, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Windham, Mrs. Claridge, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. L. R. Anderson, Mrs. Holman.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Put Foot Down With Thoughtless Neighbor

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

This department has said repeatedly that the two youngest do not make herself a doormat for an other neighbor, she is going to be stepped on.

This seems to be the experience of a "Distracted Mother" who writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I have a boy of 4 and a girl of 18 months. My son plays with his friends and everything goes fine until an inconsiderate neighbor— sends her 2-year-old to my yard. He throws stones at the baby and teases her sticks."

This neighbor has never offered to supervise the children's play. She is always ready to send them over to her yard so her beautiful lawn will not be spoiled. The only time she ever appears is when she puts a greater on her boy if it turns cold.

Then she will never stop to ask if everything is going well or to invite my children into her beautiful back yard. Last year they bought a swimming pool for the children, but never once did they ask my boy to participate in this fun. Yet she expects her youngest to come in my yard and go just as he pleases.

Is it fair for me to have to take in my youngest when hers appears in the yard?

It isn't fair and it can't happen unless you permit it. Be nice about such things, not angry and resentful, but tell her pleasantly that the two youngest do not play well together and since you are compelled to take your child indoors when her boy comes, that you prefer she keep him at home.

If this doesn't stop her, take the small boy by the hand and lead him home, explaining that so long as he can't play nicely he can't play in your yard. This helps him to learn that he has to play alone if he misbehaves.

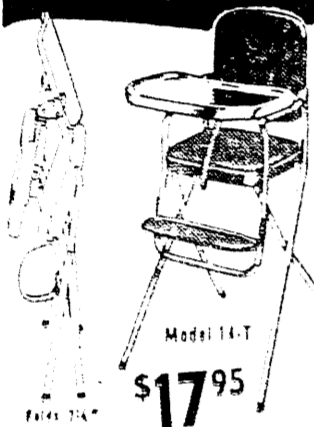

Whenever a mother writes me in this vein, I wonder why she feels she has to put up with such injustice. What does this mother owe her neighbor except to be agreeable?

Every mother wants her children to have playmates, but for this she doesn't have to make herself the neighborhood baby-sitter. She can be agreeable about children over-running her yard up to a point, and that point is reached when her hospitality is 100 per cent and the neighbor's is zero.

Don't be a part of such unbalanced hospitality. This neighbor will respect you more for speaking up.

Barnett Comments On Development

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Ross Barnett told the Mississippi Municipal Assn. Friday his new economic program passed by the 1960 Legislature opens the door to new growth and development to all political subdivisions of the state.

The MMA opened its annual convention Friday and Barnett was the featured speaker.

The governor noted that the Legislature passed his bills providing for economic growth and these laws now give all political units an opportunity to move ahead.

The state's Agricultural and Industrial Board, he said, has been staffed with only qualified, competent and willing people so that the board might aid municipalities in undertaking new developments.

"It all adds up to one thing,"

Barnett said. "It is now up to you."

"We must move forward at the state level," he continued. "We feel we are ready with our program and staff, but local people must take the initiative and make use of them."

Barnett noted that the one-half per cent reduction in state income tax for the next six years would help put the state on a competitive basis with other southern states in bargaining for new industry.

Fred M. Bush Jr. of Jackson, director of the A&I board, said the governor's broad new program for economic development is a "bill of rights" for business and industry.

The increased appropriation for the board of $1,530,000, he said, would make possible increased effort in the areas of industrial development, agricultural processing, port development, travel promotion and national advertising.

Mayor Laz Quave of Biloxi, president of the association, said although municipalities are growing in economic importance, it is not the desire of city officials to make demands "which would jeopardize the financial progress Mississippi has made in the past decade."

Dr. Ben F. Hilburn, former president of Mississippi State and now chairman of the Mississippi Research and Technological Commission, was another speaker.

He said the state is engaging in a program of scientific research in the field of nuclear energy. This program, he said, may lead to the firing of a nuclear device in about three years that would provide the answer to producing nuclear power for peaceful uses.

Eight More Banks To Cut Loan Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eight more federal reserve banks across the nation were authorized Friday to ease credit by cutting their charge on loans to commercial banks from 4 to 3½ per cent.

The Federal Reserve Board gave the permission to the reserve banks in New York, Dallas, Cleveland, Richmond, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Chicago.

The board last week authorized the half point drop in the discount rate for the federal reserve banks of Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The remaining two reserve banks in Boston and Atlanta were expected to reduce their rate soon.

LONDON (AP)—Thailand's King Phumibol on his state visit to Britain next month will pick up 103 suits and coats a Mayfair tailor firm has been working on for 4½ months and enough personal haberdashery to start a store. The master tailor who

String Of 6 Mart Climbs Are Snapped

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit-taking overtook the stock market on Friday snapping a string of six consecutive advances.

Trading fell sharply on the decline to 2,940,000 shares from 3,820,000 shares the day before.

Among the casualties were many of the recently strong blue chips. Losses in a handful of these issues pulled the industrial stock average lower by 1.34 points to 634.88. The better gains generally were registered by issues outside of the averages.

The experts were looking for a decline at this time, pointing out that the market was ripe for some sort of technical correction in the wake of six successive runups.

They noted, however, that the week-long rally had been accomplished in fairly orderly fashion and that a decline now would help to correct the few if any speculative excesses that may have occurred.

The weakness in several of the pivotal stocks pushed industrial stocks lower on average so that it showed greater weakness than the market as a whole.

Out of a total of 1,212 issues crossing the tape, 524 advanced, 46 to new highs, and 470 declined, 13 to new lows.

Blue chip losses included Procter & Gamble, down 4½, Du Pont off 2 and Eastman Kodak off 1½.

In the steels, Republic lost a point, while U.S. Steel, Youngstown and Bethlehem firmed.

Pennsylvania Railroad topped the market in activity with 22,200 shares and closed at 14½ up ½. The issue traded on two consecutive blocks of 40,000 and 27,000 shares during the first hour, at 14 unchanged.

A sharp jump in auto assemblies this week brought gains of ¾ in Chrysler, ¾ in American Motors and ½ in General Motors. Ford countered with a loss of ¾.

Disabled Vets Will Benefit From New Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower Friday signed into law a measure further safeguarding the rights of disabled veterans. There had been reports some of his advisers were urging him to veto it.

Under the new law, veterans whose disabilities are held for 10 years to have been incurred in service cannot thereafter be deprived of their service-connected ratings except in cases of fraud.

The law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1962. By that date the Veterans Administration (VA) expects to have reviewed all the 2,400,000 cases of service-connection now on the books, most of them dating from World War II.

Under present law, the ratings are subject to review from time to time. Since 1934, VA has reviewed 1,200,000 cases, severing 21,500 and decreasing payments in 71,125 others. In 9,551 cases the degree of disability has been increased as a result of the review.

Under the new law, the service-connection, after 10 years, will not be subject to review. However, the degree of disability, and the payment therefor, will remain subject to change if the veteran's condition changes.

Teacher Plans Steps To Halt His Dismissal

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—A high school teacher suspended for discussing sex in the classroom planned to seek help Friday from the American Federation of Teachers.

Edwin M. Wasilewski and his lawyer were scheduled to meet with John Lightenberg, Chicago, counsel for the teachers union, to see what can be done about his suspension from the boys technical high school.

Wasilewski was suspended after two students complained that he discussed "homosexuality, prostitution, abortion and pre-marital sex relations."

Wasilewski admitted the discussion but said he did it in response to questions from his students and to point out the dangers facing teen-age boys.

The school board upheld the suspension and gave Wasilewski a formal statement of charges of "inefficiency and lack of good behavior." Delivery of the charges is a step toward dismissal.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Put Foot Down With Thoughtless Neighbor

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

This department has said repeatedly: When a neighbor makes herself a doormat for another neighbor, she is going to be stepped on.

This seems to be the experience of a "Distraught Mother" who writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I have a boy of 4 and a girl of 18 months. My son plays with his friends and everything goes fine until an inconsiderate neighbor—whose 4-year-old plays with mine—sends her 2-year-old to my yard. He throws stones at the baby and feeds her sticks."

"This neighbor has never offered to supervise the children's play. She is always ready to send them over to my yard so her beautiful lawn will not be spoiled. The only time she ever appears is when she puts a sweater on her boy if it turns cold."

"Then she will never stop to visit or ask if everything is going well or to invite my children into her beautiful back yard. Last year they bought a swimming pool for the children, but never once did they ask my boy to participate in this fun. Yet she expects her youngest to come in my yard and do just as she pleases."

"Is it fair for me to have to take in my youngest when hers appears in the yard?"

It isn't fair and it can't happen unless you permit it. Be nice about such things, not angry and resentful, but tell her pleasantly that the two youngest do not play well together and since you are compelled to take your child indoors when her boy comes, that you prefer she keep him at home.

If this doesn't stop her, take the small boy by the hand and lead him home, explaining that so long as he can't play nicely he can't play in your yard. This helps him to learn that he has to play alone if he misbehaves.

Whenever a mother writes me in this vein, I wonder why she feels she has to put up with such injustice. What does this mother owe her neighbor except to be agreeable?

Every mother wants her children to have playmates, but for this she doesn't have to make herself the neighborhood baby-sitter. She can be agreeable about children over-running her yard up to a point, and that point is reached when her hospitality is 100 per cent and the neighbor's is zero.

Don't be a part of such unbalanced hospitality. This neighbor will respect you more for speaking up.

Barnett Comments On Development

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Ross Barnett told the Mississippi Municipal Assn. Friday his new economic program passed by the 1960 Legislature opens the door to new growth and development to all political subdivisions of the state.

The MMA opened its annual convention Friday and Barnett was the featured speaker.

The governor noted that the Legislature passed his bills providing for economic growth and these laws now give all political units an opportunity to move ahead.

"It all adds up to one thing,"

Barnett said. "It is now up to you."

"We must move forward at the state level," he continued. "We feel we are ready with our program and staff, but local people must take the initiative and make use of them."

Barnett noted that the one-half per cent reduction in state income tax for the next six years would help put the state on a competitive basis with other southern states in bargaining for new industry.

Fred M. Bush Jr. of Jackson, director of the A&I board, said the governor's broad new program for economic development is a "bill of rights" for business and industry.

The increased appropriation for the board of $1,350,000, he said, would make possible increased effort in the areas of industrial development, agricultural processing, port development, travel promotion and national advertising.

Mayor Laz Quave of Biloxi, president of the association, said although municipalities are growing in economic importance, it is not the desire of city officials to make demands "which would jeopardize the financial progress Mississippi has made in the past decade."

Dr. Ben F. Hilburn, former president of Mississippi State and now chairman of the Mississippi Research and Technological Commission, was another speaker.

He said the state is engaging in a program of scientific research in the field of nuclear energy. This program, he said, may lead to the firing of a nuclear device in about three years that would provide the answer to producing nuclear power for peaceful uses.

Eight More Banks To Cut Loan Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eight more federal reserve banks across the nation were authorized Friday to ease credit by cutting their charge on loans to commercial banks from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

The Federal Reserve Board gave the permission to the reserve banks in New York, Dallas, Cleveland, Richmond, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Chicago.

The board last week authorized the half point drop in the discount rate for the federal reserve banks of Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The remaining two reserve banks in Boston and Atlanta were expected to reduce their rate soon.

IN EICHMANN CASE

Argentina Set To Seek Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Argentina put the Security Council on notice Friday that it will seek U.N. action if Israel refuses to send back Adolf Eichmann this week.

The Argentine delegation gave the Council a copy of the note that served the ultimatum on Israel Wednesday. But the delegation did not ask for a Council meeting.

Eichmann, wartime colonel in Hitler's SS-Elite Corps — was spirited away from Argentina to Israel last month for trial on charges he was responsible for the extermination of millions of European Jews.

The West German Socialist party said in a statement during the day that Eichmann should be taken to Germany and tried in the country of the crimes.

West Germany's Christian Democratic government said it does not intend to seek extradition of Eichmann from Israel, knowing the Israelis would not give him up.

Israel told Argentina in a note Monday that nonofficial Israeli volunteers had found Eichmann on Argentine territory last month and he had agreed to go to Israel to face charges.

The Argentine reply protested that this violated Argentina's national territory and demanded that Israel punish those responsible and return Eichmann this week.

Otherwise, it said, Argentina will refer the case to the U. N. under Charter articles that authorize any member country to go to the Security Council or the General Assembly with any lingering dispute that might endanger international peace and security.

It was this note that Raul A. J. Quijano, Argentine delegation charge d'affaires, gave Nationalist China's Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang, Council president for June, with a written request that it be circulated as an official document of the Council.

Editor's Note—In the following violence it has been easy to lose sight of these facts:

By JAMES CAREY
TOKYO (AP)—Japan's post-war democracy has reached a crossroads that may determine whether it will live by law and order or repeatedly have to give in to a violent minority.

Since May 20 leftist demonstrators have been agitating to bring about a result that could not achieve by parliamentary means: defeat of the new U.S.-Japan security alliance, which goes against the left's professed desires for neutralizing Japan in the cold war.

That campaign exploded around White House emissaries Friday. Demonstrators surrounded their car, beat on it, and held its occupants prisoner for 90 minutes, demanding that President Eisenhower's visit be canceled.

With all the demonstrating and violence it has been easy to lose sight of these facts:

1. For every Japanese taking part in the "nationwide wave of sentiment," as leftists call it, there are at least 1,000 not participating.

2. There is little anti-Americanism in Japan.

Even the Socialists say it is not America they are opposing. They contend the Kishi government plans to exploit the Eisenhower visit to whip up support for the new treaty.

The protests have reached such proportions that many critics—including the anti-Kishi press—have urged reflection left anti-Americanism that nobody really wants is built up.

In the security treaty issue the Socialists have found an excellent instrument to gain public support. Although their chances of winning power are remote, they have been able to play on the public's fear of another Hiroshima—a sensitivity that transcends ideological lines—to argue in favor of a new treaty.

IN EICHMANN CASE

Argentina Set To Seek Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Argentina put the Security Council on notice Friday that it will seek U.N. action if Israel refuses to send back Adolf Eichmann this week.

The Argentine delegation gave the Council a copy of the note that served the ultimatum on Israel Wednesday. But the delegation did not ask for a Council meeting.

Eichmann, wartime colonel in Hitler's SS—Elite Corps—was spirited away from Argentina to Israel last month for trial on charges he was responsible for the extermination of millions of European Jews.

The West German Socialist party said in a statement during the day that Eichmann should be taken to Germany and tried in the country of the crimes.

West Germany's Christian Democratic government said it does not intend to seek extradition of Eichmann from Israel, knowing the Israelis would not give him up.

Israel told Argentina in a note Monday that nonofficial Israeli volunteers had found Eichmann on Argentine territory last month and he had agreed to go to Israel to face charges.

The Argentine reply protested that this violated Argentina's national territory and demanded that Israel punish those responsible and return Eichmann this week.

Otherwise, it said, Argentina will refer the case to the U. N. under Charter articles that authorize any member country to go to the Security Council or the General Assembly with any lingering dispute that might endanger international peace and security.

It was this note that Raul A. J. Quijano, Argentine delegation charge d'affaires, gave Nationalist China's Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang, Council president for June, with a written request that it be circulated as an official document of the Council.

"WE THINK our mother ought to be mentioned in the paper," Audrey, Nancy, Peggy and Hank Zeitz (left to right) wrote Michigan State University. ## Build Permit For Reactor Set Aside

WASHINGTON (AP)—A permit for construction of a 60-million-dollar experimental nuclear power reactor in Michigan was set aside Friday by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court held there was insufficient showing it could be operated safely.

Describing the Atomic Energy Commission's findings on safety of operation as ambiguous, Judge Henry W. Edgerton wrote: "In view of the nature, size, and location of the project, we think the findings should be uncommonly free from ambiguity."

He also said the "possibilities of harm are so enormous that any doubt as to what findings the (Atomic Energy) Act requires, and any doubt as to whether the commission made any such findings, should be resolved on the side of safety."

Judge David L. Bazelon agreed with Edgerton, but Judge Warren E. Burger said in a dissenting opinion that, "My colleagues are undertaking to assume responsibilities which Congress vested in the commission."

Furthermore, Burger contended, there was no occasion at this time for the court to reach the ultimate issue of safety of the plant's operation since Power Reactor Development Co. has only a provisional permit to build it.

Power Reactor Development, composed of Detroit Edison Co., 13 other public utilities and seven manufacturers of equipment, is building the "fast breeder" reactor plant at Lagoona Beach, Monroe County, Mich., on the shore of Lake Erie, 50 miles southwest of Detroit. It is called the Enrico Fermi plant in honor of a pioneer nuclear scientist.

The plant is scheduled to be finished in September and non-nuclear testing started six months later.

The United Auto Workers, one of four labor unions which carried the case to court, called the ruling "a victory for those of us in this heavily populated area who have a deep respect for the proper use of the atom."

Truman Says Didn't Okay Any Spy Flights

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Friday it was possible there were some spy flights over the Soviet Union during his administration, but he did not authorize any.

He told newsmen on his morning stroll, however, that he did not personally know of any such flights.

"It's possible they were going on," he added, "but I don't think it was proper at that time."

Earlier this week, Truman said that while he was president he had turned down a suggestion that the United States send spy planes over the Soviet Union.

That statement was challenged "as a lot of bunk" by an unidentified flier quoted by the Chicago Daily News in a dispatch from New York.

The paper said the flier, still a member of the armed forces, asked that his name be withheld. The flier was quoted as saying that as far back as 1951 he made reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory.

"We were told that if we ever got caught we would be treated as spies," he was quoted as saying.

He said the flights started about the time of the Korean War, during the Truman administration.

"We were told the State Department knew about it and I imagine if the State Department knew about it, Mr. Truman did also," the paper quoted him as saying.

State Quotas For Federal Road Aid Given

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller announced state quotas Friday for federal highway aid under the $2,873,613,000 ceiling imposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The quotas, which will limit the amount each state can spend, and still receive federal reimbursement, were necessary to keep the roads program on a pay-as-you-build basis, Mueller said. States may ignore the ceilings, but if they do they are not guaranteed federal reimbursement. Under the federal-state highway program, the states let contracts and then bill the federal government for its share of the project's cost.

The fiscal 1961 program includes a total of two billion dollars for the 41,000-mile interstate highway program and about $873,613,000 miles of primary, secondary and urban roads.

The federal government pays for 90 per cent of the cost of the interstate highway system and 50 per cent of the cost of the primary, secondary and urban roads, the so-called "ABC" system.

Build Permit For Reactor Set Aside

WASHINGTON (AP)—A permit for construction of a 60-million-dollar experimental nuclear power reactor in Michigan was set aside Friday by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court held there was insufficient showing it could be operated safely.

Describing the Atomic Energy Commission's findings on safety of operation as ambiguous, Judge Henry W. Edgerton wrote: "In view of the nature, size, and location of the project, we think the findings should be uncommonly free from ambiguity."

He also said the "possibilities of harm are so enormous that any doubt as to what findings the (Atomic Energy) Act requires, and any doubt as to whether the commission made any such findings, should be resolved on the side of safety."

Judge David L. Bazelon agreed with Edgerton, but Judge Warren E. Burger said in a dissenting opinion that, "My colleagues are undertaking to assume responsibilities which Congress vested in the commission."

Furthermore, Burger contended, there was no occasion at this time for the court to reach the ultimate issue of safety of the plant's operation since Power Reactor Development Co. has only a provisional permit to build it.

Power Reactor Development, composed of Detroit Edison Co., 13 other public utilities and seven manufacturers of equipment, is building the "fast breeder" reactor plant at Lagoona Beach, Monroe County, Mich., on the shore of Lake Erie, 30 miles southwest of Detroit. It is called the Enrico Fermi plant in honor of a pioneer nuclear scientist.

The plant is scheduled to be finished in September and non-nuclear testing started six months later.

The United Auto Workers, one of four labor unions which carried the case to court, called the ruling "a victory for those of us in this heavily populated area who have a deep respect for the proper use of the atom."

Truman Says Didn't Okay Any Spy Flights

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said Friday it was possible there were some spy flights over the Soviet Union during his administration, but he did not authorize any.

He told newsmen on his morning stroll, however, that he did not personally know of any such flights.

"It's possible they were going on," he added, "but I don't think it was proper at that time."

Earlier this week, Truman said that while he was president he had turned down a suggestion that the United States send spy planes over the Soviet Union.

That statement was challenged "as a lot of bunk" by an unidentified flier quoted by the Chicago Daily News in a dispatch from New York.

The paper said the flier, still a member of the armed forces, asked that his name be withheld. The flier was quoted as saying that as far back as 1951 he made reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory.

"We were told that if we ever got caught we would be treated as spies," he was quoted as saying.

He said the flights started about the time of the Korean War, during the Truman administration.

"We were told the State Department knew about it and I imagine if the State Department knew about it, Mr. Truman did also," the paper quoted him as saying.

State Quotas For Federal Road Aid Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller announced state quotas Friday for federal highway aid under the $2,673,613,000 ceiling imposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The quotas, which will limit the amount each state can spend, and still receive federal reimbursement, were necessary to keep the roads program on a pay-as-you-build basis, Mueller said.

States may ignore the ceilings, but if they do they are not guaranteed federal reimbursement. Under the federal-state highway program, the states let contracts and then bill the federal government for its share of the project's cost.

The fiscal 1961 program includes a total of two billion dollars for the 41,000-mile interstate highway program and about $673,613,000 miles of primary, secondary and urban roads.

The federal government pays for 90 per cent of the cost of the interstate highway system and 50 per cent of the cost of the primary, secondary and urban roads, the so-called "ABC" system.

Premier

THE HAGUE (AP) — Israel's Premier David Ben-Gurion with his wife and a daughter will visit the Dutch capital unofficially June 22-24, the foreign ministry reports, and will be luncheon guests of Queen Juliana at Soestdijk Palace.

Karmann Ghia

Every fluent line of the Karmann Ghia by Volkswagen says Italian sports car. Ghia, of Turin, designed its sheath of flowing glass and steel to convince you it's always in motion. Its body is precision built in Germany by Karmann, Europe's noted custom coachmaker, and powered with the famous Volkswagen air-cooled aluminum engine.

The Karmann Ghia sits low on the road; it corners superbly. Its streamlined design gives it a top speed of over 70 mph. The Ghia's interior is crafted with the care you expect of a custom automobile. Unlike other limited production custom cars, the Ghia, with its economical Volkswagen engine, requires a minimum of service and costs are low. Excellent parts and service facilities are available at Volkswagen dealers in all 50 states, Canada and Mexico.

Hard-top or weather-tight convertible, the Karmann Ghia is available in a special group of handsome colors and two tone combinations. The coupe is $2430 P.O.E., the convertible $2695 P.O.E. Both are great fun to drive. Come in and try one this week. Heads will turn, we promise you.
